Arguments Flare About Soviet in Jap War

INSPECT NATIONAL GUARD UNITS—Col. Norman J. Carey, representing the office of the Chief of Staff to the Governor, and Col. Frank W. Harkin, (right), commanding officer of the 156th Armored Field Artillery Battalion, New York National Guard, inspect 105 mm., self-propelled howitzer at the armory on Manor avenue. Col. Carey yesterday inspected both the Kingston and Poughkeepsie armories. During the inspection tour, men of the National Guard were highly commended for their volunteer flood relief activities over the past weekend. (Freeman photo).

'56 Plans May Form Discussion

Brownell to Meet President Friday

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—Atty. Gen Brownell is flying out to Denver tomorrow and the trip raises speculation that President Eisenhower may now want to discuss the political situation with his top adviser in that field.

It is generally recognized that the 51-yead-old attorney general is "the wizard" in political matters for this administration, and that the President frequently turns to him for advice in such matters.

IN ANNOUNCING the other day that Brownell had been invited to the President's bedside, James C. Haggerty said that Justice Department business would be discussed. This might well concern two presidential nominations—from justice department ranks—to two judgeships, both of which were sidetracked in the last Congress.

The men involved are Solicitor General Simon E. Sobeloff of Baltimore, nominated for the fourth circuit court of appeals at Richmond, Va., and Asst. Atty. Gen. Warren E. Burger of Minneapolis, proposed for a place on the U. S. Court of Appeals here.

Both nominations evoked opposition and never got out of committee before the session ended. The question of resubmission in the January session now has to be settled.

DISCUSSION of this business of course would not preclude some further talk about politics, perhaps including the President's heart attack and its implications for 1956. The meeting of the two will be the first since Eisenhower was stricken.

Brownell's reputation for skillfully masterminding difficult political situations stems from his close 25-year association with Thomas E. Dewey, two years of service as chairman of the Republican National Committee, the management of two Dewey bids for the presidency, and finally his role in the successful Eisenhower campaign of 1952. During that campaign, he functioned in the New York Eisenhower headquarters, and he has been publicly described by fellow Republicans as "the chief strategist" in the drive which put Eisenhower in the White House.

THERE ARE politicians in both parties who believe that if the President is not to run for a second term, he will have to make that fact known before the end of the year in order to give other Republican aspirants time to build up their forces for the August convention in San Francisco.

Or, some Republicans say, the President might publicly pat some one on the shoulder, indicating "this is my choice" and thus settle the San Francisco dust before it has arisen from an intra-party fight over the nomination.

There is, indeed, a lot for the President and the attorney general to talk about in Denver tomorrow, if the President feels the time has come for political analysis.

The judgeship nominations, if they are on the agenda, also present some ticklish angles.

FLOOD VOLUNTEERS—Part of a group of 30 members of the Mennonite Disaster Service of the Mennonite Church of the Lancaster, Pa., area, who arrived in Rosendale yesterday to lend a hand to residents hard-hit by flood. They split into four groups and pitched in with mops, brooms, rakes, shovels, etc. Here a group, under the leadership of Ivan Martin, prepares to enter the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Aubel on Main street. The Mennonites, who reside in a section which was devastated by the flood eight weeks ago, will also be in Rosendale all day today, returning tonight to Lancaster. There are approximately 10,000 Mennonites in the Lancaster Conference of the church. The Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross, which has established a disaster unit in Rosendale, is providing the group with food and shelter. (Freeman photo)

MacArthur Points to Documents

Not In on Yalta, General Insists

By ELTON C. FAY

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—Fresh controversy centering on Gen. Douglas MacArthur flared today from the Pentagon's release of long-secret documents bearing on American efforts to bring Russia into the war against Japan.

The documents recorded MacArthur as twice concurring directly in the opinion that Russia should get into the conflict—once when the war began and again in June, 1945.

MacArthur, acknowledging that he wanted the Soviets to strike Japan right after Pearl Harbor, denied that he ever again advocated Russian entry into the war until after the Yalta Conference of February, 1945, when great concessions were made to Russia.

IN A STATEMENT in New York, MacArthur declared the 35,000-word Pentagon report "fully confirms" that he was never consulted about Yalta.

And he said that once the Yalta decisions were made they became binding upon him as upon other military commanders. He commented:

"The attempt to interpret any statements I may have made in the course of such post-Yalta discussions as reflecting my pre-Yalta views and convictions is wholly unwarranted."

MacARTHUR also said in his statement:

"There is not the slightest hint of documentation over my signature in the entire Defense Department report which even remotely suggest my support of these territorial concessions (to Russia). . . .

"I repeat, had my views been requested concerning the secret agreements bearing upon Russia's entrance into the Pacific war I would have opposed them as fantastic."

Last March, when a Republican-Democratic debate over Yalta brought up questions of MacArthur's views at that time, the general declared he had not the slightest connection with the conference, and asserted:

"HAD MY VIEWS been requested with reference to Yalta I would most emphatically have recommended against bringing the Soviet into the Pacific war at that late date. To have made vital concessions for such a purpose would have seemed to me fantastic."

Yalta was a meeting of President Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Churchill and Russian Premier Stalin at a Russian Crimean resort of that name.

New IBM Division Is Coming

Kingston Chosen as Center of Operations by Company For Manufacture of Computers for Air Warning System

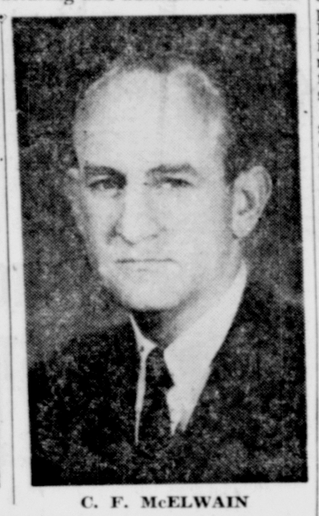

Center of operation of an IBM military products division, on "the same autonomous organizational basis" as the electric typewriter plant, will be at the new Kingston plant, it was announced today.

Thomas J. Watson Jr., president of IBM, announced the corporate change at a luncheon of IBM directors, officers and executives at the Metropolitan Club, New York.

The new division will be a self-contained engineering, manufacturing and administrative unit.

GAVIN A. CULLEN

C. F. McELWAIN

Two weeks ago the company put its electric typewriter division on the same basis, with Kingston again a center of operation.

Mr. Watson said that Charles F. McElwain, director of defense engineering and manufacturing for the past 10 months, will be general manager of the new division. He will supervise all defense contract operations, including research, engineering, manufacturing and administration. William A. Dolph was named controller and Albyn F. McCullon was named counsel of the new division.

THE CHANGE, which is largely functional and administrative, will require no new, immediate building plans beyond those existing and under construction on the Kingston site.

The administrative offices of the new division will be at IBM World Headquarters in New York. Research engineering and manufacturing facilities will be located in two general areas in New York state. One will be the Kingston-Poughkeepsie area with the center of operation at IBM's new plant at Kingston. The principal responsibility there will be IBM's part of Project Lincoln, entered into with the government by IBM in collaboration with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to produce ground-based computers for the continental air warning network. The general manager of this project for IBM will be Gavin A. Cullen, now general manager of IBM's Kingston plant.

THE SECOND AREA of the military products division's operations will be IBM's airborne computer laboratory, now located at Vestal, N. Y., and production facilities now engaged in the production of advanced electronic bombing and navigational systems. The general manager of this operation will be Curt I. Johnson, now manager of IBM's airborne computer laboratory.

In announcing the new autonomous division, Mr. Watson said that the industrial might of our nation is the first line of support to our military forces, and

Homes Solicitors Are Sought in Chest Drive

The Kingston Area Community Chest's Red Feather drive entered its second and final phase today, as volunteers were being enlisted in residential and suburban sections for house-to-house solicitation of persons not contacted by other divisions.

Active during this final phase of the $100,270 campaign will be the government and education division, the residential and the suburban divisions.

At the same time, an intensive effort will be made to wind up the work of advance gift, industry, commercial and professional and health divisions. Workers in those divisions are being urged by their chairmen to turn in their reports to the Community Chest office, 209 Clinton avenue, or at the Industry Division headquarters in the YMCA building, Broadway at Pine Grove avenue, so that an accurate report can be made as to campaign progress to date.

In spite of the fact that the flood of last weekend resulted in much lost time because many Community Chest volunteers were also active as volunteer firemen, Red Cross disaster workers or in Civil Defense assignments, every effort will be made to keep to the original closing date of Oct. 28, according to Christopher D. Morris, general campaign chairman.

Chest member agencies themselves were active in flood relief work, with the Salvation Army busy supplying coffee and sandwiches for evacuees and workers, the YMCA opening its building for those made homeless, and the Boy and Girl Scouts called upon for special tasks.

Latest developments in the campaign organization include the announcement of the appointments of Bernhardt S. Kramer, city clerk, and Earl Soper, superintendent of schools, as co-chairmen of the government and education division.

The first ward to organize its residential solicitation is the Second Ward, where Miss Carolyn Newkirk and Mrs. Morton Zucker are co-chairmen.

Mayor Calls for Flood Study

BPW Hears Report More Than 200 Cellars Pumped Out During Disaster; Overflowing Brooks Are Big Problem

Mayor Frederick H. Stang yesterday called for a study for remedial action to prevent the flooding of brooks in the city during heavy rains and indicated renewed effort to get as much aid as possible to prevent floods along the Esopus and Rondout creeks.

THE MAYOR DIRECTED the engineering department, at a meeting of the Board of Public Works, to make the study and also asked for improvement of the intersection at Wilbur avenue and West O'Reilly street.

Ernest A. Steuding, public works superintendent, in stressing the seriousness of the overflowing brooks, said his department had pumped out more than 200 cellars after the recent flood.

EVEN CELLARS at the top of Hillcrest avenue, one of the higher points in the city, he noted, experienced flooded cellars in the last downpour. Most of the damage, he said was on Main and Emerson streets, and Lucas avenue, uptown, and the area where the Twaalfskill brook overflowed downtown.

Mayor Stang expressed his thanks to Commissioner Raymond L. Whitbeck and a group of women in the third ward who supplied sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee to those who worked during the weekend flood. He thanked the merchants in the area who donated the food and coffee.

A report came in, as the meeting started that a small bridge on Brook street had broken under the weight of a vehicle, and Steuding telephoned the information to his department instructing workmen to close that section of the street to traffic.

MAYOR STANG, in his statement on flood conditions said:

The recent floods over the last weekend and the one of a month or so ago demonstrate very clearly that some provision must be made to alleviate, at least in part, the flooding conditions which affected some parts of our city, namely, the Wilbur avenue section, the Main street, Emerson street, and the Lucas avenue sections.

The flooding in these particular areas is, to a great extent, caused by the Main street, Tannery and Twaalfskill brooks. These three streams ordinarily dry up, or are at the most a small trickle of water most of the time, but become raging torrents at times of exceedingly heavy rains, the sewers be-

4 Towns Requesting Dredging of Esopus

Saugerties, Marbletown Are Joined By Ulster, Hurley for Deeper Stream

A request that the U. S. Army Engineers dredge the Esopus creek from Saugerties to Olive, or at least clean out the creek bed for its entire length to prevent a recurrence of the recent disastrous floods, was made Wednesday at a meeting of the supervisors, town highway superintendents, Acting County Superintendent of Highways Roland Green and army engineers.

This request was made several years ago following flood conditions but the army engineers at that time gave a report to the effect that the conditions of the stream did not warrant the expenditures.

Two disastrous floods this year appear to have shown the need, Chairman Charles Relyea of the board of supervisors said.

The request for dredging the stream bed or at least cleaning the stream from Olive to its junction with the Hudson river at Saugerties was made by the supervisors of the towns along the stream, Supervisors Peter Williams of Saugerties, Percy Bush of Ulster, Harry Snyder of Marbletown and Charles Relyea of Hurley.

At the meeting Wednesday the engineers presented forms and explained how to make out requests for federal assistance on behalf of the towns.

Supervisor A. J. Snyder of Rosendale, one of the most seriously affected areas, also requested federal assistance and aid for his town.

Ulster county has been declared a full disaster area, continuing the emergency conditions which were declared following

Phone Company Starts Building at Woodstock

Construction of an extension to the New York Telephone Company's Woodstock central office building on Neher street in the village is underway in preparation for an expansion of equipment next year.

Leonard W. Herrick, telephone company manager, said the work began at this time to permit the Colonial Construction Company of Kingston to complete the project before the advent of cold weather.

Installation of additional dial equipment will begin next spring and will be completed in early summer. The telephone company then will have the facilities needed to handle present and future requests for telephones and lines with fewer parties.

The 14 by 20 foot extension will provide an additional 250 square feet of floor space, thereby increasing the building's total area to 750 square feet. An entrance way measuring five by 14 feet is planned.

Of concrete block construction, the extension will have a pitched roof covered with asphalt shingles.

According to Mr. Herrick, the additional space provided by the extension will permit further equipment expansion as it is needed.

"If past and present demands are indication, requests for service will continue at a steady rate in the future. During the last 15 years the number of Woodstock telephones has more than tripled. From 570 in 1940 the

Road Chairman Says State AAA Has No Ground for Opposing Big Bond Issue

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—The chairman of a state highway study commission says the State Automobile Assn. has no ground for opposing the proposed 750-million-dollar highway bond issue.

Charles Diefendorf declared yesterday that the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads had not taken the position that New York state had "diverted highway user funds to non-road purposes."

The State AAA opposes the bond issue and the motor-fuel tax increases that would accompany it because there is no constitutional assurance that the revenue increases would be used solely for highway purposes.

If the voters approve the bond issue Nov. 8, state taxes per gallon will increase Jan. 1 from four to six cents on gasoline and from six to nine cents on diesel fuel.

"The claim of the Automobile Association that highway user revenues have been diverted in the past is based, according to their statements, solely on the statistics of the Department of Commerce, K. S. Bureau of Public Roads," Diefendorf said.

"If there is no diversion," Diefendorf said in a statement, "the New York State Automobile Association has no ground for opposing the highway bond issue as they have approved the construction program, the tax and the issuance of obligations

Gollnick was honored on his 15th anniversary as pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church by more than 400 members of his congregation and friends. Seated (l-r) are Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, toastmaster; Mrs. Gollnick, Dr. Gollnick; Frederic Snyder, well known lecturer of this city who paid tribute to the guest of honor as a spiritual leader; and the Rev. David C. Gaise, pastor of Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer; standing, Mayor Frederick H. Stang, Mrs. Stang, Mrs. Donald A. Ebel and the Rev. Mr. Ebel, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and Paul Terpening, dinner chairman. The Rev. Dr. Gollnick is a member of the board of Kingston Hospital and Kingston City Laboratory and chaplain of the police and fire departments. (Freeman photo)

Herzog Purchases Half Interest in Lumber Co.

Robert H. Herzog, vice-president and treasurer of the Herzog Supply Co., Inc., announced today he had purchased a half interest in the Kingston Lumber Co., 334-356 Fair street from the George Pratt Estate.

Mr. Herzog said there was no change in the 34-year-old organization planned at this time but that he expected later to take over active management of the concern.

The business was organized and conducted by the late Congressman Harcourt J. Pratt and Morris Samter in 1921. At the death of Congressman Pratt his interests were taken over by his son, George Pratt, who continued in the business until his death. Since then his interests have been held by the estate.

Mrs. Florence D. Pratt is the present president. James L. Lumb is vice-president, Josephine P. Lumb is treasurer and William A. Evans is the secretary and general manager.

BOOK REVIEW

To further increase interest in the Kingston Library the following review by Mrs. G. Cramer Dodge is published.

MY PHILADELPHIA FATHER
By Cordelia Drexel Biddle
Pp 256

Only an adoring daughter could so well tell the story of the life of her highly individualistic father and make him appear to be, in spite of his many eccentricities, what he really was—a thoroughly likable character.

Born into one of Philadelphia's wealthiest and most influential families (they looked down their noses at New York society) Col. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle pursued a tumultuous career with slight regard for either money or social position.

For him life was one enthusiasm after another into which he plunged with all of his considerable vigor, dragging his family along with him through one astounding episode after another.

Father's biggest aspiration was to excel in the art of boxing. To this end, he set up a boxing ring in his coach house, sparred with (and sometimes KO-ed) the best pugilists of his time, and had them all, at one time or another, as dinner guests—sometimes to their discomfiture, more often to their entertainment—in his palatial home. And in time, by constant attention to diet and exercise, he become a national champion. From all this, and through study with masters of jiu jitsu, and other pugilistic arts, he made himself very useful as master of bayonet practise for the United States Marines in World Wars 1 and 2 and won his title of Colonel.

PUGILISM was by far not enough for the Colonel's vast energies. He pursued a literary career, became a publisher and wrote many interesting articles and short stories, in spite of the fact that he had little formal education.

He also fancied himself as a great singer. He could sing loudly but with little artistic finish. His great popularity gave him high place in this field, although most of his concerts were given to a well-papered audience in the Academy of Music composed mostly of the various ramifications of the Biddle-Drexel-Duke clan. For him they suffered the concerts and one of the worst Pagliaccis on record.

Father cared little for social activities except for large functions in his own home, where he shone as a gracious host. Such affairs as the International Sporting Club and picnics for his beloved Bible Class were Father's special joys. The whole family had to participate in these events—in fact mother (most admirable of wives) saw to it that nothing stood in the way of father's complete enjoyment of any and all of his activities, even the wildest ones. She would not have his splendid spirit broken. Of course there were times when household feelings ran rather high about some of the Colonel's idiosyncracies as, for instance, when he brought home from Florida and kept in the conservatory of the Walnut street home, several alligators—large and small—The odor was not pleasant.

HIS FOOD fads were fantastic. The oyster, buttermilk and chocolate diet (and nothing else for weeks) were very trying. His appearance in the Savoy-Plaza lobby dressed in a torn sweater, dirty sneakers and disreputable trousers, on his way to a run in Central Park, was, to say the least, embarassing to his family.

In spite of father's splendid physical training, he was a poor dancer. However mother insisted upon his escorting her to the annual Assembly Ball (for an invitation to which many social aspirants would give their eye teeth) and staying to the end while she danced and he—for once—played second fiddle.

The colonel was a show-off, although unconsciously so, for instance he thought nothing of walking into Tiffany's, buying a $6,000 tiara and paying for it in cash. In fact if a man of lesser social standing did the same outrageous things he would be considered an insufferable eccentric. To his family and his friends he was nothing of the kind. Their high regard for him stemmed from their knowledge of him as a kindhearted, sincere gentleman. And when he passed on he left an empty place in their hearts that nothing else could fill.

One study shows that harvesting of a single corn crop in Iowa cost 326 fingers, 63 hands, 14 arms, 5 legs and 3 lives.

THIS SHRINKING WORLD

We've had plenty of broad hints from the plane makers that the jet age of commercial air travel was coming much sooner than originally believed. But now we can pin the arrival date down firmly. It is December, 1958.

The matter was settled when Pan American World Airways, again and again a pioneer in civil aviation, placed a 270-million-dollar order for 45 huge jet airliners.

National Airlines, a carrier with both domestic and international routes, previously had recorded its intention to buy a group of Douglas DC-8 jets. But Pan American claims to be the first to sign a definite contract.

Obviously this is just the beginning of the parade to jets. All the major lines soon will be placing orders.

It is perhaps well that this original order was divided between the Douglas DC-8 and Boeing's already well-tested Model 707. Assuming that both craft will prove thoroughly suitable for long-range volume traffic, we must welcome such a division of the business as will help to keep our major manufacturers operating at healthy levels.

Commercial aviation has gone through so many revolutions in so short a time that some of us may be inclined to view this latest prospect a bit too casually. But the telescoping of time that jets will bring should not be lightly dismissed.

The globe will shrink remarkably once more, as it has done so often since the airplane developed ocean range. Flight times in many cases will be virtually cut in half. For example, it will be but eight and a half hours from Tokyo to Seattle. New York to London will be spanned in six and a quarter hours.

Jet schedules, made feasible by plane speeds up to 575 miles an hour, will allow many more people to travel to many more places. Time is money, and these savings will let vacationers go to far distant lands than has usually been possible up to now.

There is much more to it, however, than merely increasing opportunities for pleasurable travel. World understanding has a chance to advance materially every time the barriers of distance are lowered.

The diplomat who can make the trip to and from Europe in little more than half a day may hop a jet plane even to clear up the most minor differences with friends abroad. Personal contacts may be greatly enhanced.

The same goes, in a different way, for all the rest of us. Involved is not just the fun of seeing new places but the rich value of knowing new people and new ways of living.

From this can emerge breadth of view, tolerance, some of the makings of human wisdom. On such a foundation we may hope that a world peace can be built which will be not only lasting but eminently just.

The surest way to get promoted to the front is by starting diligently and working hard at the rear.

POST OFFICE PENS

The old familiar post office pen is under fire, not for the first time. It is the first time, however, that something seems likely to be done about it. Last March Assistant Postmaster General Norman R. Abrams announced that 20,000 ball point pens had been acquired. If they proved durable and could be fastened down in such a way that they would not be stolen, they would be assigned to the different post offices. As yet, so far as is known, no conclusions have been reached.

The trouble is the widely varying writing habits of the users. Some bear down, some write lightly, and some use the side of the pen, some the back. No pen can stand such mauling without replacement.

If the post office succeeded in getting and keeping better pens, many illegible addresses would cease to be written.

The Post Office Department has a promising idea. If it persists in its effort, great results may follow.

A DIFFERENT STORY

When it was announced that the United States and Communist China would meet at Geneva, the purpose was clearly stated as relating to the single question of the release of Americans held hostage in Red China. The American people were never told that other political matters were on the agenda.

The "People's Daily" of Peking has an altogether different view of the Geneva meeting. In an article by Observer, which may be regarded as official, the following appears:

"After the agreement on the return of civilians, people expected the talks to go on to discuss and settle other practical matters at issue between the two sides. However, U. S. press reports disclosed that the United States did not want fast progress in the further discussion. As far as China was concerned, it tried to help the talks forward. China's positive efforts to carry further the discussions of questions that contribute to easing tension between the two countries should not be misinterpreted. Attempts to use these efforts as a basis for blackmail can achieve no purpose other than to obstruct the progress of the talks."

Then the article continued:

"All cases of Americans who have committed crimes in China must be investigated and dealt with individually according to China's legal procedure and the crimes and behavior of those convicted. China's policy toward the convicted Americans has been consistently lenient. U. S. press reports have stated that the U. S. side, before agreement was reached on the return of civilians of both sides, had demanded at the talks that all the Americans who committed crimes in China be released within a specified period and that this demand was firmly rejected by the Chinese side.

"A demand like this is bound to be rejected by the Chinese side. It is an inviolable sovereign right of any country to deal with cases of convicted foreign nationals in accordance with its laws. China will not concede to any demand that encroaches on its sovereignty. Since the agreement on the question of the return of civilians was reached after the Chinese side firmly rejected this demand, there is absolutely no reason why the demand should be repeated after the agreement."

This Geneva Conference is lost in the silences of censorship. The American people have not the slightest idea as to what is happening at this Conference. I get some idea of it by reading what occasionally appears in China. The State Department pursues a policy of deadly silence. But the Conference continues. It may last forever. The Peking article gives this side of it:

"According to facts admitted by the U. S. State Department, there are, obviously, still many Chinese nationals in the United States who up until now do not dare to apply to return home because of the long years of intimidation and persecution. That is why it was necessary to stipulate, in the agreement on the return of civilians, that a third country assist those desiring to go home. China has invited the Republic of India to assist Chinese nationals in the United States to return.

"The agreement concerning arrangements for the third country has just begun to be put into effect, but the U. S. State Department alleges that the leaving of the three Chinese nationals is the 'last' group. This obviously contradicts the whole spirit of the agreement reached by both sides. There are many Chinese nationals in the United States. Whether they can exercise their right to return home or not is a trial of U. S. sincerity about carrying out the agreement."

The fact is that any Chinese student in the United States who wishes to leave this country can do so, and all who wanted to leave have gone.

This is an interesting example of how confusing simple international issues can become. A conference is called to arrange for a return of hostages. The counter-claim is made that Chinese students in the United States are also held as hostages. Then there is a silence. A few Americans are released; a few Chinese students in the United States elect to return to China.

Then other issues are raised. What are the other issues? Presumably the question of recognition is discussed. What is said? No one tells us. Does the State Department want us to forget this prolonged Geneva Conference until the American people are faced by a fait accompli?

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

GLAUCOMA—CAUSE OF BLINDNESS

Glaucoma is a disease of the eye characterized by increased tension behind the eyeball which is sufficient to damage its contents and lead to blindness if not treated. It has been found that glaucoma is the most important single cause of blindness in many civilized countries. It rarely begins before the age of 40 and usually has its onset between the ages of 55 and 75. To date its cause is unknown. The two population groups who seem especially liable to glaucoma are Jews and Egyptians. Women seem to be affected more often than men.

The symptoms of glaucoma are so slight in the early stages that patients may put off visiting their oculist. Many medical authorities believe that the safest way of tackling the problem is to set up some type of routine examination of the population over forty, such as has been done in routine chest examinations. The routine examination suggested is called tonometry which is a measurement of the tension of the fluids within the eye against the outer membrane. When we realize that there are an estimated 1,100,000 in the United States with unrecognized glaucoma, we can see the value of such a routine examination.

What are the symptoms of glaucoma? First, there may be a sudden failure in the ability of the eyes to adjust for various distances. There is a desire to change to stronger reading glasses. There may be temporary loss of some or all vision, lasting for a few minutes. There is hazy or foggy vision and a tendency to see halos around artificial lights. There is faint clouding of the front part of the eyeball. These symptoms subside, to reappear in a week or two, or instead a glaucomatous attack may occur.

This attack frequenly begins during the latter part of the night with or without the symptoms just mentioned. There is severe pain in head, sometimes with nausea and vomiting. There can be either flushed face and fever or pale features with cold hands and feet. The vision rapidly decreases, frequently to the point where only light can be seen or even to complete blindness. This is an emergency condition and calls for prompt hospitalization.

Sometimes the other eye is attacked within a few hours, weeks, months or years may intervene. Blindness practically never occurs after the first attack. What we must remember is that glaucoma is definitely not one of the conditions that tends to grow better by itself in time and, if not arrested, leads to blindness.

Treatment may be by drugs which, by contracting the pupil, lower the tension within the eyeball to some extent. Physostigmine and pilocarpine are two such used. Operations may also be necessary to cure glaucoma. The important thing for us to remember is to consult an eye specialist should we experience one or more of the symptoms outlined above.

"Just Say the Word"

Larsen's Washington News Notebook

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — Ever since Attorney General Herbert Brownell rushed back from Spain after Ike's heart attack he has been one of the busiest men in town.

He quickly put the kibosh on talk of delegating some presidential powers to Vice President Nixon. In conference with Republican National Chairman Len Hall and presidential assistant Sherman Adams he suggested the policy of all GOP presidential hopefuls keeping mum.

He was also in on the "carry on as usual" decision of the GOP National Committee.

During the tense weeks since Ike's attack he has kept in close touch with Sherman Adams on what matters should be brought to Ike's attention during his convalescence. He spoke with Secretary of State Dulles about several legal angles to the upcoming foreign ministers' meeting at Geneva. He has had daily, frequent telephone conversations with all other members of the cabinet.

ON TOP OF ALL THAT Brownell's switchboard at the office and phone at home have been swamped with calls from key GOP politicians all over trying to find out what's going on during Ike's illness and asking advice on what moves to make.

These activities demonstrate the two vital roles Brownell has on Ike's team and the part he will play in helping to run the government during Ike's convalescence.

As chief legal officer for the administration he has been a key consultant on every one of its major programs and decisions. That includes legal angles on foreign affairs which takes up a surprising amount of his time.

As former campaign manager for Tom Dewey, an original member of Ike's campaign team and mastermind of the defeat of the Taft forces at the convention, Brownell is also the key political expert and consultant of the administration.

Just how much political power Brownell will wield in the choice of the GOP presidential candidate, with Ike apparently out of the race, remains to be seen. Brownell's support could be vital to a candidate.

THIS IS TRUE BECAUSE whatever open support Ike gives to a candidate will be determined after he has gotten Brownell's views on the matter.

During the course of a normal week's business before Ike's illness the attorney general usually was on the phone or met with the President more frequently than with any other cabinet member. Brownell's dual role of legal and political adviser to Ike was responsible for this.

Brownell is a smooth, confident man and cool under fire and crisis. Ike likes these qualities in the men around him. He especially appreciates the fact that although Brownell is a real political "pro" he is not the back-slapping city hall type.

Brownell is a conservative man about his personal life, most of which is wrapped up in activities with his family. He seldom drinks, and the Brownells do a minimum of entertaining and party-going.

His hair is thinning but he has kept himself lean and young-appearing with the proper diet and exercises. He's not vivacious but is generally good-natured and seldom loses his temper.

ONE OF THE BIGGEST JOBS he faced taking over the Department of Justice was to restore order in the department and to attract some high-caliber attorneys. Under the previous administration the Justice Department had suffered from weak administrative policies and the reputation of federal attorneys was low.

He now has a waiting list of applications from top law school graduates who want jobs. And the prestige of service at Justice has been raised considerably under Brownell.

Among the most influential members of Ike's cabinet, Brownell at 51 is the youngest and probably has the most practical political experience. Yet he has had least mention as a possible presidential candidate himself.

Close friends say there could be a boom for Brownell.

But the absence of such a boom so far is the best clue to his political ambitions and talents.

His most effective, satisfying work is done behind the scenes. He's the careful planner, the expert who finds loopholes in the other fellow's argument, the shrewd legal analyst, the political tactician.

The unknown question is whether he's a vote-getter for himself as well as for others.

Need of Concessions Doubted To Have Russia War on Japan

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 20—After wading through 40,000 words of official documents issued by the Department of Defense from the records of messages, reports and recommendations apropos of Soviet entry into the war, the reader will find one important fact omitted. It is that nobody knew at the time of the Yalta conference on February 10, 1945, or for a long while thereafter, that an atom bomb was going to defeat Japan in August of that year.

What is revealed now has to be placed in the setting of existent knowledge in the early part of 1945. Thus, high military officers, including General MacArthur, had discussed academically since the day Pearl Harbor was attacked whether or not it would be a good thing to get Soviet Russia to fight Japan.

But the big question that led to the publication of the documents this week by the Pentagon revolves around a political dispute. Democrats have contended that the surrenders made at Yalta and the concessions to Russia were a price that had to be paid to get the Soviets into the war. Republicans have contended, on the other hand, that no such price had to be paid.

THE DOCUMENTS stress the fact that the military men in America thought it desirable to have Russia in the war. But the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff were not unanimous. Thus Admiral King, chief of naval operations, is referred to as follows in a document revealed this week, dated June 18, 1945:

"Admiral King said he wished to emphasize the point that, regardless of the desirability of the Russians entering the war, they were not indispensable and he did not think we should go so far as to beg them to come in. While the cost of defeating Japan would be greater, there was no question in his mind but that we could handle it alone. He thought that the realization of this fact should greatly strengthen the President's hand in the forthcoming conference."

The "conference" referred to was held at Potsdam that month. President Truman knew about the atomic development and the story of what the atom bomb probably could do in war. He had an opportunity, of course, to decide to revise the Yalta concessions if he wished to do so, but every effort was made at Potsdam to urge Stalin to get into the war. He promised to do so.

MANY PEOPLE on the sidelines, forgetting that at Yalta nobody knew about the atom bomb, have known only that Russia entered the war just a few days before the bomb was dropped. Naturally it was wondered whether America, realizing that she had this nuclear weapon, should have felt compelled to let Russia get so many concessions.

The fact is that the big test of the atom bomb in New Mexico occurred July 16, 1945—several months after the Yalta conference. Hence, it was not possible to revise the position which the American government had taken at the Yalta conference.

The records just made public leave open the question of why the allies had to sell out Poland and make other concessions in Europe if the self-interest of the Soviets was so obvious — that they couldn't stay out of the war and let the United States and the allies gain a dominance in the Far East. Since it was so important to Russia to be in on the kill against Japan, why were concessions made at Yalta?

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S part in the whole affair appears to be incidental. When he denied last March that his views were not solicited before the Yalta Conference, he was telling the truth. The records bear him out. There are two sections in the newly released report which mention the general. One concerns a conversation held with Colonel Paul Freeman, who represented the U. S. joint chiefs and talked to MacArthur three days after Yalta but before either MacArthur or Freeman knew what had happened at the Yalta Conference.

Likewise, General George A. Lincoln, who did bring the news about Yalta to MacArthur on February 25, 1945, reported that the general discussed possible invasion of Japan, with Russia assumed to be a future participant. But that was after the political decisions had been made at Yalta and any discussions concerning possible aims or claim to territoy that might be made by Russia in the Far East were irrelevant. It was then MacArthur's job to exploit the decision as an accomplished fact and get as favorable a program of Russian assistance as was possible for the benefit of his own operations.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Berlin—The drive from Friedland in free West Germany to the American sector in Berlin takes about five hours, including delays at American, East German and Soviet check points. Friedland is hallowed ground where about two million prisoners from Soviet Russia have shuffled, blinking, into the light of hope, love, compassion and civilization from Soviet horror camps as far away as Siberia.

As my car tooled through the Soviet zone of East Germany, 100 miles of a land graciously ceded to the enemy by Harry S. Truman, without remonstrance from General Eisenhower, fragments of Markham's Man With the Hoe rattled amid the jumbled lumber of memory. And the thought persisted, with the rhythm of the dull bumps of a crumbling autobahn, cutting this dead and abandoned land, where bent, hopeless, shapeless huddles of womanhood crawled on the cold earth, that these German women could have been free today had Truman done otherwise at Potsdam.

The Germans always despised the Russians as brutes, but already within these short ten years the Russians have stamped their impression on the Germans of the eastern province. They have had control of a generation of children who, caught then at the ages of eight to, say 15, have been weaned from the religion and directed from the company and customs of their parents. The parents, reduced to the same slavery that brutalized the Russians, have sunk into sodden subjugation.

On the West German autobahns, gangs are constantly at work doubling the width of Hitler's once-fantastic German make-work project. But perhaps one third of the 154 kilometers from the first check-point, east of Brunswick, to the turn-off, 20 miles south of Berlin, is now reduced to half its original width by delapidation. The grassy strip between the two lanes is mowed and tended in the west. The same strip in the east is rank with weeds, now gone to seed, often high enough to hide the mileposts, and with scrub shoots of birch and pine.

In the west, great bunches of fat, black-and-white cattle are seen on every hand, but the entire eastern journey disclosed not more than 150 head, and most of them with poor flanks, and three flocks of geese of perhaps 20 to a flock. There were a few more geese scattered in yards and fields. The biggest bunches of cows and geese were down on the wet shore of the west bank of the Elbe river, the point of demarcation chosen by John G. Winant, whom Roosevelt sent to London as his ambassador. This weeping mountebank had been told he looked like Lincoln and believed it. Appointed to a mysterious "control" commission of which the American people knew nothing then and still know little more, Winant agreed to divide Germany, east and west, along a line roughly 100 miles west of the Elbe and to cede Berlin absolutely to an enemy who already had shown his hatred.

Roosevelt died. Truman in the presence of "good old Joe" Stalin at Potsdam did not insist on a written access to Berlin for our soldiers. So the Americans fell back while General Patton cursed privately but never for the record and retreated from the outskirts of Prague. Eisenhower obeyed without a word. He has since made contradictory statements, first that he obeyed a political order from his president and second that he and he alone made the decision to condemn these people and this hard-won zone of western Christendom to The Brute.

For every scrawny cow, there were probably half a dozen dark huddles of womanhood down on the ground, pawing like animals in the cold soil for tiny potatoes overlooked in the harvest. In the eastern zone, the Communist realm which calls itself "demokracy" in slogans along the highway reviling the west for exploiting the worker, there were few males in the fields. More than two million East Germans have escaped to the west since 1950, most of them men. This accounts in part for the large preponderance of their women not merely on the soil but pawing in it, women already bearing the Russian imprint — the brutalized figures, the bowed heads and dull, dirty faces, the heavy boots, the inevitable scarf and the colorless coarse cloth of their skirts. A few young boys were helping but not down on their knees with their mothers, grandmothers and sisters. They were carrying the baskets to the wagons, except in one spot where a gang of about a hundred men were gleaning small spuds in a stark revelation of the curse of democratic freedom under the Soviet. For if a few bushels of little potatoes are worth the labor from dawn to dark of 100 able-bodied men, democracy is a dream not yet fulfilled.

There were so few passenger cars going either way that the journey is almost lonely, but many ugly, sloppy East German soldiers are spared for duty as idlers along the highway. At the last check approaching the turn-off, we slowed up and thought we were waved on. But a fat young sentry of the eastern democracy leaped out of a shack waving angrily with horrible cries flowing from a swinish face. A few yards away in a field below the grade, a woman, perhaps his mother, on her knees in the gathering dusk, hacked at the matted grass with a strange tool with three wide blades. The nearest farmhouse was a mile away.

Education Board Names Architect

Sargent, Webster, Crenshaw and Folley of Syracuse were selected as architect for new school buildings at a meeting of the Board of Education Monday evening.

The board had deferred final recommendation of a site of new buildings until an architect was selected. This policy is in keeping with good practice because the planning of a building is in part dependent upon the nature of the site. Even the taking of borings to determine the nature of the soil must wait until the approximate location of the building on the site is determined, otherwise expensive boring may be wasted.

The board selected the architect only after a careful survey of the field. Committees of the board have taken several trips to visit school buildings in communities approximately the size of Saugerties where buildings similar to that needed here have already been constructed.

The adult education course, "Law Everyone Should Know," will meet Thursday evening, Oct. 20, at 7:30 p. m. in the Saugerties High School. William D. Brinnier, III, instructor of the course, has announced that Ernest Schirmer, local attorney, will deliver a lecture on "Insurance" at that time. Mr. Schirmer has had considerable experience in the field of insurance law.

The lecture will deal with such topics as the insurance contract, types of policies and their uses i.e., auto, fire, life, accident, and an insurance company's obligations and vice versa. The types of coverage available and the amounts of insurance available in automobile, theft, burglary, fire, life, accident and health policies will be explained. Unusual types of insurance will also be discussed.

Additional registrations for the course may be accepted at class time upon payment of the registration fee.

Five Villages To Start Fiscal Year on June 1

Ellenville, New Paltz, Pine Hill, Rosendale and Saugerties are among 496 villages in the state which will commence a new fiscal year June 1, 1956 in accordance with a new finance article of the village law passed by the Legislature.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt announced today the completion of the first phase of revisions in the financial administration of New York state villages.

Only 53 villages will have fiscal years commencing on dates other than June 1. They either were governed by special laws or they chose options to retain their present fiscal year or selected one commencing August 1.

REGARDLESS OF what fiscal year selected, Comptroller Levitt said, tax collection now starts on the first day of the new fiscal year. One purpose of this provision is to eliminate or reduce borrowings formerly necessary because tax collection was deferred several months after the start of the fiscal year.

Changes have also been made by the new law in dates for performing real property assessment functions. The 496 villages on a June 1 fiscal year have until February 1, 1955 to prepare an assessment roll and the third Tuesday in February has been designated as the time for such villages to hear complaints, commonly called Grievance Day. In the past these activities were generally performed in November by the majority of villages that then employed a fiscal year beginning on March 1.

Comptroller Levitt warned today that some villages on a June 1 fiscal year were failing to observe the new dates for assessment of real property, and were using the old dates. He requested any village needing advice to come to his office for help.

THE REVISED LAW was effective generally September 1, 1955 to enable villages to prepare and adopt a budget based on the new law for the year beginning in 1956. The former law permitted adoption of a budget after the commencement of a village's fiscal year. The new law requires adoption of a budget in advance of the fiscal year so as to improve financial planning and management.

New budget and accounting manuals were supplied by the comptroller to the 549 villages of the state last year for the first time since 1925 to assist village officials and to explain the new legislation.

Christmas Seals Committee Plans Opening Nov. 16

Chairmen of the working committees for the 1955 Christmas Seals Sale met this week to discuss various activities in the preparation for the seals sale opening Wednesday, Nov. 16, and continuing through December. The campaign is held annually to raise funds for the Association's tuberculosis-prevention and control programs.

Activities discussed were preparation of Christmas Seals and letters by volunteers, distribution of publicity aids through various organizations, individuals, and business houses in Kingston and throughout Ulster county.

THE OPENING PAGEANT of the Christmas Seals Sale will be held on the evening of November 11. A contest to find a little boy and girl, between the ages of four and seven from Ulster county who resemble the children on the 1955 Christmas Seals Sale, will be carried on. The committee said that parents or teachers of young children interested in having youngsters in this contest may contact the TB Office, 74 John street, or any of the working committee members or township chairmen.

James L. Rowe of Kingston is serving as the general chairman for the 1955 Christmas Seals Sale. Other members working with Mr. Rowe on the Steering Committee are: Mrs. William Gregory, Woodstock; Mrs. Dorothy Hocmer, Ellenville; Mrs. Richard Kalish, Kingston; Dick McCarthy, Kingston Daily Freeman; Miss Bea Patrick, WKNY; Tom Reynolds, Saugerties; Miss Alice Scardefield, Kingston; Augustus Modjeska, Woodstock. Christmas Seals chairmen will serve in all townships of Ulster county.

Wappingers Cow Establishes Record

Official production record of Boast Ormsby Pasch, a Holstein cow owned by Carl H. Swenson Jr., of Wappingers Falls, was announced today by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Her production was 690 pounds of butterfat and 20,431 pounds of milk. The cow was milked three times daily for 365 days. Average quarts daily amounted to 26. Age when the record began was seven years and four months.

Cornell University supervised the weighing and testing of the milk for this record and it is a part of the herd improvement registry department of the association, located in Brattleboro, Vt. The program is designed to give an official production record on every cow in the herd every year so that wise selection for increased efficiency can be made.

Demand for Black Pepper

Demand for black pepper among U. S. cooks and chefs pushed the imports of this popular spice to about 35½ million pounds in 1954.

Records show that 6,421,233,806 tons for coal, iron ore, grain and limestone have been carried in Great Lakes ships in the last century.

Philly Leads Way In Move to Halt Rheumatic Fever

Youngsters at three schools in the Philadelphia area are taking part in a pioneer study which it is hoped will help communities all over the nation to develop effective programs to prevent rheumatic fever, a serious threat to the hearts of children and adults.

Dr. E. Cowless Andrus, president of the American Heart Association, announced today that the pilot study has been initiated by the Heart Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania, in cooperation with the national association, local medical and educational authorities, parents and family physicians.

DR. HAROLD RAKOV is chairman of a special Heart Committe of the Ulster County TB and Health Association making the survey in this area.

Dr. Andrus explained that the study was undertaken in an effort to fill important gaps in knowledge about control of streptococcal infections—particularly "strep" sore throats—which may lead to the development of rheumatic fever. Dr. Andrus said, "Earlier studies in a military population have demonstrated that it is possible to prevent initial attacks of rheumatic fever through the prompt and adequate penicillin treatment of strep' infections. We require more knowledge in order to plan broad-scale community programs for the nation."

Lyonsville

Lyonsville, Oct. 19—Lyonsville Reformed Church, the Rev. Richard B. Coons, pastor—Services at 11:15 a. m. The choir meets every Thursday at 8 p. m. The church name sign, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Christensen was dedicated at last Sunday's services at which time Mr. Christensen sang "Bless This House." The church sign bears the erection date of 1859.

Election of officers took place at the business meeting of the Lyonsville Community Club on Saturday night. Officers elected were Richard Mahon, president, Clyde Roosa, vice president, Wanda Roosa, secretary, Mrs. Frank DeFrance, treasurer and Mrs. Chester Roosa, pianist. The annual card party will be held November 5, at the club hall.

Several local people attended the wedding of Sandra Sue DeBusse and Sheldon L. Davis, Saturday afternoon at St. John's Episcopal Church, Ellenville. The groom is the son of former residents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Davis.

Frank DeFrance and son, Frank Jr., and William Brooks and son of High Falls spent the weekend on a fishing trip to Schroon Lake.

Deserter Is Taken

Los Angeles, Oct. 20 (AP)—A man sought for 13 years as a deserter from the army during wartime has been apprehended here, the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced last night. Special Agent John F. Malone, in charge of the FBI office here, identified the man as Walter Anders, 51. The FBI said Anders was a horse trainer and formerly raced horses at smaller tracks in the east. Since 1942, he worked as a trainer mainly in the Chicago area.

Chessman Lawyers Quit

San Rafael, Calif., Oct. 20 (AP)—Caryl Chessman—the death row author—heatedly parted company today with two attorneys who saved him, at least temporarily, from the gas chamber. The attorneys, Berwyn Rice and Jerome Duffy, told newsmen after leaving San Quentin prison that they were leaving the case. They declared their part in it was "finished, kaput."

Long Suit Is Contract Threat

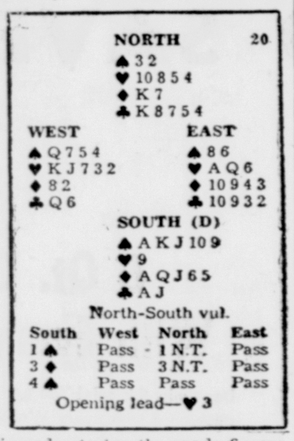

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

We continue today the series on the care and management of trump suits. Even a robust trump suit must be protected against the threat of the enemy's long suit. The protection may cost a trick, but if this is just an overtrick you can well afford to give it up in order to make sure of your contract.

In today's hand, West leads a heart. He isn't happy about leading away from his king-jack, but it is sound strategy to lead a long suit when you have length in the declarer's trump suit. Your own long suit is your best weapon.

In this case East wins the first trick with the ace of hearts and leads the queen of hearts, forcing South to ruff.

South is tempted to enter dummy with a diamond or club in order to try the spade finesse. With a successful finesse, South will probably win 12 tricks.

If South tries the finesse, however, he will lose his contract. West wins with the queen of spades and leads another heart. When South trumps, he then has fewer trumps than West. From that point on the hand is hopeless.

South must resist this temptation. After ruffing the second heart, South must draw exactly two rounds of trumps with the ace and king. This leaves the queen and one other trump out against him, but South must ignore those two trumps.

Gritting his teeth, South abandons the trumps in order to cash his good diamonds. Sooner or later somebody will trump and lead a heart. South will ruff with his next-to-last trump and continue with good diamonds and clubs. The opponents can make their other trump trick and South will fulfill his contract. South still has a trump to make sure of regaining the lead.

The key to the hand is that South must avoid giving up the lead unnecessarily when the opponents are battering away at his trump suit.

IBM Promotes Zollinger

New York, N. Y., Oct. 20—J. E. Zollinger, director of defense contracts for International Business Machines Corporation since February, 1953, has been promoted to executive assistant to the vice-president in charge of sales. Mr. Zollinger, who has been with IBM for 27 years and has served in a number of key sales positions, will be in charge of sales research and planning for IBM's domestic sales organization comprising 190 branch offices.

Forward Fall

A person who suddenly dies while standing, whether from a bullet or other causes, amost invariably falls forward. The same is true of a person who faints while standing.

Briefly Told

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Army-Air Force Wage Board announced yesterday wage increase averaging nine cents hourly effective Nov. 4 for 2,700 employes at Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome, N. Y.

WAVERLY, Oct. 20 (AP)—Earl L. Blow, 6, was injured fatally yesterday when struck by an automobile on Route 17 near his home in nearby Chemung. State police said he ran in front of the car. He died in Tioga General Hospital here.

FORT EDWARD, Oct. 20 (AP)—Mrs. Melinda Roberts, 98, died yesterday leaving 97 descendants. They are four daughters, a son, 38 grandchildren and 54 greatgrandchildren.

ITHACA, Oct. 20 (AP)—Erwin H. Ludlow, about 50, was killed last night when struck by an automobile at nearby Lansing.

LODI, Oct. 20 (AP)—Firemen battled three hours yesterday to extinguish flames in a carload of cotton on an eastbound Lehigh Valley freight train.

Fire Chief William Hurd estimater the loss at $25,400. The station agent in this Cayuga county hamlet flagged the train to a halt when he saw the fire.

ITHACA, Oct. 20 (AP)—Mrs. Charles White, 81, died in a hospital last night of burns suffered when a pan of grease boiled over on a coal stove at her home in Interlaken and ignited her clothing.

Reds Admire Automat

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—A group of Russian journalists joked about wives and admired a New York automat yesterday. The seven Soviet writers, in this country on a month-long tour sponsored by the State Department, also visited the Metropolitan Museum of Art, held a news conference at the Overseas Press Club and ate in the automat.

More than 14 million pints of blood, 7½ million for civilians and 6½ million for military use have been donated to the Red Cross since 1948.

Elliot Lawrence to Play For Legion Ball Nov. 9

ELLIOTT LAWRENCE

Named three times by Billboard Magazine as the number one band in the land, Elliott Lawrence's orchestra has been signed for the annual ball and stage show of Kingston Post 150, American Legion to be held at the municipal auditorium November 9.

One of the really skilled composers and arrangers in music today, Lawrence will play for the five-act stage show and dancing.

THE YOUNG LEADER, who was graduated cum laude in music from the University of Pennsylvania, possesses a background of solid musicianship, successful dance band popularity and batonship of many top network radio and TV shows.

HIS CAREER began, following college graduation, in a Philadelphia radio station where he remained for several years, originating a number of his own CBS network shows.

AT THIS POINT, he decided to form his own travelling orchestra and for the next eight years held rein as one of the top orchestras in the country, playing every important night club and hotel coast to coast.

Lawrence has recorded over 500 sides for leading recording companies and his albums and singles are available in record shops everywhere.

A PORTION of his energies and talents has been devoted to the legitimate conducting field. He became assistant conductor to Leon Barzin at the National Orchestral Association of New York and was invited to the Denver Symphony Orchestra, the Philadelphia Symphony and others as guest conductor.

Since his decision to give up the travelling band several years ago, Lawrence has become one of the most active conductors in radio and TV, having conducted on some of the outstanding network shows.

Frederic Snyder Set to Address Saugerties C of C

FREDERIC SNYDER

Principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce will be Frederic Snyder, noted news analyst, lecturer and world traveler of Kingston. The 41st annual affair will be held in the Flamingo Restaurant on Wednesday, Nov. 16.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT was made by Mrs. Marzell Roming, member of the banquet committee and ticket chairman at the regular meeting of the Saugerties Chamber held Wednesday night at the Municipal building.

Mrs. Roming reported for Banquet Chairman Arthur London who was absent. She said that arrangements are being made for a large attendance and letters with tickets are being mailed to all members who will be permitted to invite guests to the annual affair which is one of the social highlights of the Saugerties area.

AN EFFECTUAL and well prepared plan for off-street parking in the village of Saugerties was proposed to the members by President Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., who with Chamber Secretary Albert J. Cawein and members of the Saugerties Planning Commission have been working on the proposal for the past three weeks.

The members in attendance authorized the Board of Directors of the Chamber to appoint a special committee to continue further study of the proposal which might possibly solve the long tolerated parking condition in the village.

PLANS FOR A special conference with the committee and the Saugerties Planning Commission have been arranged following which the formal proposal will be presented to the Village Board of Trustees at a special meeting to be announced.

Planning Commission members delegated to work on the off-street parking proposal are Ben Greenspan, Kenneth Beadle and Daniel F. Lamb.

IMPETUS WAS given the drive for new memberships when the members approved a proposal that beginning immediately new members may be accepted for 1956. The secretary will issue 1956 membership cards upon acceptance, however the new 1956 wall plaques will not be issued until after the first of the year.

Executive Secretary Cawein presented a membership application for the Empire Super Market which opened in Saugerties on Wednesday and membership was approved by those attending.

Another Record Yule Sale Is Predicted for All Stores

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Department stores, with profits up 50 per cent from a year ago, can look forward to another record-breaking Christmas season.

That's the conclusion of the National Retail Dry Goods Assn. following a poll of member retailers.

The NRDGA survey showed that net profits of department stores for the first six months of 1955 were 50 per cent higher than in the like period last year.

This wwas achieved, said the NRDGA on increased sales of merchandise at lower prices. A more effective selling job, and a tighter rein on operating costs, contributed substantially to the improved results. At the same time, NRDG said, department stores hiked their newspaper advertising budgets.

Sam Flanel, general manager of the NRDGA's Controllers' Congress, said the survey indicates that "for the first time in quite a while, department stores are probably doing a better selling job."

The average department store sales check climbed to $4.52 from $4.39 a year ago, he pointed out, despite a decline of 1.1 per cent in prices.

"The outlook for the balance of this year is encouraging," Flanel said. "Accompanying the return of the buyers' market, stores are doing both a more effective merchandising and expense control job. The most important fact is that despite volume gains, stores are not slackening but even intensifying their expense control efforts.

"From all indications, the brisk business pace should continue through the balance of the year. Store sales this Christmas should again top all prior records."

Stockholm, Sweden, Oct. 20 (AP)—The 1955 Nobel prize in medicine was awarded today to Dr. Hugo Theorel, a Swedish biochemist, "for his discoveries concerning the nature and mode of action of oxidation enzymes."

Meinhardt Given Watch at Dental Meeting Tuesday

Dr. Harry R. Meinhardt, Kingston dentist, was honored with a presentation of a watch during the semi-annual meeting Tuesday night of the Third District Dental Society at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Recognition was made of Dr. Meinhardt's 25 years as secretary of the Ulster-Greene Dental Study Club. Presentation was made by Dr. John F. Reading.

EARLIER in the business session, Dr. Meinhardt was elected a delegate to represent the society at the House of Delegates of the American Dental Society. The other delegate is Dr. David Hunn of Troy.

Among the officers and other guests present were:

Dr. Harold Link, Hudson, president-elect; Dr. John J. Lucca, Columbia University, clinician; Dr. Sidney D. Wolff, Kingston, toastmaster; Dr. Robert Sherman, Troy, vice-president; Dr. Henry Haase, Albany, treasurer; Dr. Nathan Feltman, Albany, president; Dr. Reading, past president and Dr. John Knighton, Albany, secretary.

Ninety-four dentists were in attendance from Albany, Rensselaer, Schoharie, Columbia, Ulster, Greene and Sullivan counties.

Phone Company

number rose to over 1,700 today," he said.

The telephone manager called this growth "a good indication of the increased value and usefulness of telephone service because customers now can call and be called on a local basis by more friends and associates than ever before."

The expansion project in Woodstock is part of the telephone company's statewide program to provide more people with telephone service of ever-increasing quality and dependability, he concluded.

Inflation Threat Regarded as Over

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—The President's illness appears to be accomplishing what the money managers first started out to do with tight money — nip overconfidence and put a brake on inflation.

Confidence on the whole seems to be unshaken. But, as the stock market shows, caution has returned. There are fewer people today who believe that the only way business, stock prices, and the economy can go is up.

MANY BUSINESSMEN, therefore, now believe that the money managers will take few if any further steps in tightening credit. Interest rates are still creeping higher as the result of past steps by the Federal Reserve and the government's mortgage and home building agencies. And there is little expectation to a shift to easy money, unless business hits a snag.

But there are signs today that the money managers believe these past steps, and the President's illness, have accomplished the original purpose: To halt over-confidence, speculation and an incipient inflation that would lead to boom and bust.

Home building has felt the pinch first. Contractors say mortgages are hard to come by these days. Higher downpayments and shorter mortgage periods apparently have dried up some of the market; tighter credit has slowed it down; and housing starts are decreasing.

TIGHTER MONEY has also hit businessmen seeking bank loans. Banks have just hiked their interest rates again. Rates on commercial paper—the unsecured IOU's of leading corporations—have risen again, for the 10th time this year. At the first of the month there was 2¼ billion dollars worth of such paper outstanding.

The U. S. Treasury is now paying 2.333 per cent on his 91-day bills—it sells more than 1½ billion dollars of these each week. This is the richest rate it has had to pay since the tight money days of 1953 that preceded the recession.

And the Treasury rate has just climbed higher than the Federal Reserve's discount rate of 2.25 per cent—this is the interest the Federal Reserve charges member banks borrowing from it. Normally the Federal Reserve keeps its discount rate above the Treasury rate, to discourage banks from borrowing from the Reserve to buy Treasury bills.

But so far the Federal Reserve hasn't raised its rate. And businessmen see in this a sign that the Federal Reserve Board feels that further tightening of money isn't needed now.

ALL ALONG the reserve has pointed out that it wasn't making money dear just for the sake of restraining business. It promised to keep credit easy enough for ordinary business needs. But it was alarmed at the signs of over-confidence and speculation which threatened a runaway-boom.

In the last three weeks this over-confidence has been largely deflated. Speculation is being widely tempered by caution.

REAL CONFIDENCE remains unshaken. Many large corporations have said their expansion plans are unchanged. Others have announced new projects. The long-term economic picture is fairly unclouded.

But the uncertainties that have followed the President's illness have shaken first the bull market in stocks, and then led businessmen to plan with caution. Speculation has lost some of its lure.

Prices will probably continue to inch higher, reflecting past increases in labor and material costs. But the urge to build up inventories of high-priced metals, say, isn't quite as strong today as it was three weeks ago —and inventory building was one of the props under rising prices.

Inflation looks like much less of a threat now than just three weeks ago.

Breaks Silence on Death

London, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Kremlin, breaking a decade of silence, has disclosed the death in a Soviet jail of Gen. Leopold Okulicki, a top commander in the Polish wartime resistance against the Nazis. Polish exile sources said today the Soviet Red Cross last Friday notified the general's widow, who lives in London, that her husband died of natural causes in a Moscow jail on Christmas Eve, 1946. It was the first word Mrs. Okulicki had received of her husband since he was arrested 10 years ago with 15 other Polish leaders.

Sees Probation Degrees

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman predicts that courses in probation work will eventually be given importance by "many of our great universities" in New York state. "They will confere degrees in this field in the not too distant future," he says. "We will have uniformly high professional standards throughout the state for those practicing the profession of probation counseling."

Cub Pack Starts In Woodstock

An organization meeting of the Woodstock Cub Scout Pack was held at the Woodstock school Monday evening. All boys desirous of being a Cub Scout attended with their parents. A business meeting was held and a new committee was appointed. John Bennett was appointed cub master and Walter Van Wagenen will serve as his assistant and general advisor to the committee. Five dens will be organized and the following will serve as den mothers, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Eschmann, Mrs. Kinns, Mrs. Strickland, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Greenberg, Mrs. Frodsham and Mrs. Holzumer.

A cub pack committee was organized with the appointment of the following: Bob Gordon, chairman; Inger Walker, secretary; Albert Holumzer, treasurer; Barbara Gibson, pack activities; Alan Mower, advancement; Irving Pierce, pack organization; John Derry, public relations.

The Woodstock Cub Scout Pack is sponsored by the Square Club with the Rev. Harvey Todd and Robert Gordon as institutional advisors.

A meeting of the pack committee and den mothers will be held at the Woodstock School October 25. The first pack meeting is planned for November 17.

Tillson

Vote Additions To Engine House

Tillson, Oct. 20—A record crowd of taxpayers from the Tillson fire district met Tuesday night at the firehall, and by a vote of 71 to 51 voted in favor of the district constructing additions to and altering the present engine house, at a cost not to exceed $12,000.

The commissioners explained that the additional construction would enable the district and the company to house up to five vehicles in the future. At the present time, the district owns two trucks, and the company owns one tanker. The tanker, under present circumstances, cannot be housed in Tillson during the winter months.

Commissioner Arthur Wirth explained in facts and figures how much it would cost each taxpayer to have this additional building. The exact cost of construction is not known, but will be around $12,000, or less, he stated. As yet no detail drawings have been made; merely rough sketches. The commissioners did not wish to spend funds for this purpose until the public had been informed of the details, and approved the resolution, they explained.

As soon as specifications are made, advertising for sealed bids will be published, according to legal procedure. It is hoped that construction will get under way within the shortest time possible, so that use of the new engine house will be realized this winter.

Layman Law Class Scheduled Tonight

The first session of law for the layman at the adult education program to take place at the Tillson School, will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The speaker will be William D. Brinnier, Kingston lawyer, who will speak on the courts.

The first session of the sewing class, scheduled for last night, was postponed until next week on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

5 IBM Promotions Are Announced by Cullen

Appointment of five employes to new positions at the Kingston plant of International Business Machines Corporation was announced today by Gavin A. Cullen, general manager.

They are Harold F. Bibbo, Hurley, to associate engineer, test equipment engineering; Russell F. Boice, 63 Madison avenue, Kingston, to manager of the second shift, production control accounting; Miss Alyce M. Kowalski, 144 Millers Lane, Kingston, to manager of the records section, personnel department; Evan E. Lutke, 318 Lucas avenue, Kingston to coordinator of general education; and Chester A. Wendell, Vestal, to manager of plating, polishing and tumbling.

MR. BIBBO, a native of Peekskill, joined IBM as a wireman at the Poughkeepsie plant in May, 1952. The following year he was promoted to technician in the test equipment maintenance and construction department and served in that capacity until he was transferred to the Kingston plant as a group leader of maintenance and construction.

Mr. Bibbo is a graduate of Theodore Roosevelt High School, New York city, and has completed technical courses in IBM schools in which he also has served as an instructor.

During World War 2, he served with the U. S. Air Corps and Signal Corps. Married and the father of three daughters and a son, he belongs to the IBM Study and Camera clubs

MR. BOICE is a native of Kingston and a graduate of Kingston High School. He joined IBM as an analyzer at the Poughkeepsie plant in January, 1947. Subsequently, he was elevated to administrative assistant in electric typewriter analyzing in November, 1951. He was transferred to the Kingston IBM operations in September, 1954, as an administrative assistant and a year later was promoted to manager of production machine accounting.

A veteran of 14 months of service with the U. S. Army, Mr. Boice maintains memberships in the IBM Country Club and the Poughkeepsie Audio Society. He is also active in the Boy Scouts.

MISS KOWALSKI, who claims Bullville, Orange county, as her hometown, has been with IBM since February, 1943, when she joined the organization as a typist at the Endicott plant. Prior to her present promotion, she had served as secretary to the controller at Endicott and Poughkeepsie, secretary to the works accountant at Poughkeepsie, secretary to the general manager at Poughkeepsie, and personnel interviewer and women's counselor in both Poughkeepsie and Kingston.

A graduate of Middletown High School, Miss Kowalski received advanced training at Gregg College, Chicago, Ill., where she majored in executive secretarial practice and court reporting. In addition, she has taken several courses in IBM schools. She is a member of the IBM Country Club.

MR. LUTKE, who holds a bachelor of arts degree from Syracuse University, is a native of East Syracuse. He joined IBM in December, 1951, as a stock clerk at the Poughkeepsie plant and has served as expediter and engineering change analyzer in the production control department there.

He was serving as departmental technician in the production control department at Kingston prior to his promotion.

Mr Lutke is a veteran of World War 2 service with the U. S. Navy and experienced combat action in the Philippines' campaign. He is married and has three daughters.

MR. WENDELL joined IBM in February, 1937, at the Endicott plant, located in his hometown. Later, he was transferred to the cost engineering department there and, last August, moved to the Kingston plant as manager of the plating department.

A graduate of Union-Endicott High School in Endicott, he has completed several courses in IBM schools. He's the father of a son, 10, and a daughter, 13. His outside activities include membership in the IBM Country Club at Endicott.

Mt. Tremper

Mt. Tremper, Oct. 19—The Community Association of Mt. Tremper and Mt. Pleasant will hold a special meeting in the former schoolhouse Thursday night. Association President Burton Lane urges all members to attend as important matters will be discussed and decided.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Abel and their grandsons, Theodore and Gerard Byron, spent the weekend visiting relatives at Forest Hills West, L. I.

Mrs. Howard White of New York city spent the weekend here with her sister, Miss Catherine Feller.

Mrs. Mary Reilly of Long Island is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Reese Smith, Jr., returned Saturday from Scottsburg, Ind., where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Woodworth and family. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Woodworth are sisters.

Installation of the newly-elected officers of Asbury, Lake Katrine and Mt. Tremper Granges, will take place at the Mt. Tremper Grange Hall, Monday evening, Oct. 24 at 8 p. m. Ross Osterhoudt of Stone Ridge will be the installing officer and he will bring his installation team with him. All Grange members are welcome to attend and witness the impressive ceremony. Refreshments will be served by Mt. Tremper Grange.

Misnamed

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, was named for a river that does not exist. Spanish discoverers, in 1502, mistook the wide bay for the mouth of a river, which they called River of January, because they came upon it on January first.

Full name of the famed Dutch painter was Rembrandt Van Rijn.

Business Group Hears Talk On Artists Village

Woodstock, Oct. 19 — The members of the Woodstock Business Association held their monthly meeting at Deanie's upstairs dining room on Monday Oct. 17, at 12 noon. It was a luncheon meeting in order that the members could hear a short talk by Arnold Blanch concerning the proposed Artists Village, and how its existence would be of benefit to the community.

Mr. Blanch explained that the idea of a housing program for art students who come to Woodstock has been under consideration for some time. However, during the last few months an interested group of businessmen have been meeting to formulate more definite plans. Among those working on the program are in addition to Mr. Blanch, James Bird, Bob Dorfman of Sacony Fabrics, Warren Hutty, William Eisner and Mordy Berkowitz. The group has been offered one-third of the amount of money which the project will cost if they guarantee to raise the other two-thirds. They have also been offered some land in the vicinity of the Art Students League. It will be a non-profit organization, and any money derived from the project will be put back into the building program.

The building plans provide for regularly designed houses with landscaping and will be available to art students. Students who are married may also find lodgings there, but there is no provision for children. The rooms will be rented for $8 a week.

The members of the Woodstock Business Association agreed that it would be a fine community project and endorsed it highly. Warren Hutty, president of the association, has also contributed ideas for the development of the project.

A committee of the members of the Woodstock Business Association will be named shortly to work together with the group which is planning the "village."

The directors of the Woodstock Business Association will meet Monday night, Oct. 24, at the home of Warren Hutty to take up routine matters which were omitted at the luncheon in order to give Mr. Blanch all the time he needed. The director's meeting was referred to as "an important planning meeting" and undoubtedly there will be some interesting news available after the meeting.

Schedule Second Firearms Exhibit

Woodstock, Oct. 19 — Flood conditions last Saturday afternoon prevented many firearms enthusiasts from attending the exhibition of antique and modern firearms at the Rainbow Lodge which opened Oct. 15. Consequently Dick Kahil, of the Rainbow Lodge, Mt. Tremper has announced that there will be a second opening reception, Saturday, Oct. 22, from 3 to 7 p. m., with dinners available by reservation after 7 p. m.

The impressive exhibition, which is handsomely displayed has been arranged by Dick Short and Ed Jurist from their own fine collections. They represent historic and important American antique arms as well as specimens of modern firearms made by some of the world's finest craftsmen. Both collectors are recognized authorities in their respective fields and hold membership in various state and national organizations whose purpose is to foster and encourage interest in all types of arms.

From Mr. Short's collection are some of the rarest pieces of Americana associated with the colorful expansion of the old Western Frontier days.

A free-lance writer, Mr. Jurist has specialized for years in the study of gunmaking techniques employed by Europe's master craftsmen and devoted his interests in gathering specimens created by them.

Included in the exhibit are rare models of Colt "Dragoon" engraved presentation arms, shotguns, single shot and double rifles. The exhibit is open to the public until October 30.

The exhibition is of value in connection with the National Rifle Association's program to educate hunters in the proper use of firearms. Memberships in the association may be obtained at the Rainbow Lodge or any NRA member.

The Better Vision Institute estimates that 20 million American women need glasses but do not have them.

Announcing the Fabulous '56 Pontiac

Introducing A BIG AND VITAL GENERAL MOTORS "AUTOMOTIVE FIRST"!

A new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic—coupled with Pontiac's 227-H.P. Strato-Streak V-8—results in performance so new and dramatic it must be experienced to be believed!

With all that's newest in glamour—and all that's greatest in "go"—the fabulous '56 Pontiac, now on display, awaits your hands on the wheel.

And when you drive it, you will get the biggest thrill in all your motoring experience—because this car is really loaded!

The big and vital General Motors "First", which heads its long list of look-ahead features, couples the two most advanced high-performance developments in the industry:

1. An all-new, big-bore Strato-Streak V-8 engine that puts 227 blazing horsepower at your toe-tip.

2. A completely new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic that delivers this terrific "go" with a smooth surge of power at any speed.*

You now sweep from take-off to top performance with the ease of a sailplane.

You slow down for traffic, speed up for passing, or gun for a high hill with the changing pressure of your toe on the accelerator the only sign of effort.

You may have had it smooth before—but never like this! It literally must be experienced to be believed.

That's plenty—but there's much more to make this a date to be long remembered.

There's smart, new beauty and luxury for America's most distinctive car. There's the safety of big brakes and road-hugging length . . . the security of a smooth new ride and sure-footed cornering.

There are many, many other things which mark this beauty as the glamorous pattern for tomorrow's cars. But come in and see for yourself. Take a long look at the six luxurious new Four-door and Two-door Catalina hardtops. Sample the results of its fabulous General Motors "First".

Sure as you enjoy thrilling action, here's your next car! *Optional at extra cost.

Two Men Die in Fire

Chicago, Oct. 20 (AP)—Two men perished and eight others were injured, one seriously, last night in an extra-alarm fire in a hotel in W. Madison street's skid row. Bodies of the victims of the blaze at the Adams Hotel for men at 1008 W. Madison street were found by firemen on the third floor of the four-story building. One was tentatively identified as E. Lonergan, about 65. The second was burned beyond identification. Police had earlier reported three men killed in the blaze.

'Post Card Girl' Dies

Philadelphia, Oct. 20 (AP) — Marjorie Lee Elder, the 12-year-old "Post Card Girl" from Lewistown, Pa., died on the operating table during a delicate brain operation yesterday. A team of surgeons was attempting to remove a calcium deposit from her brain. The operation was scheduled to last seven hours. Marjorie Lee died when it was two-thirds completed. The operation brave little girl whose only request had been to get "lots of cards" to fill her scrapbook.

Balanced Budget Goal

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House Appropriations Committee expressed hope today that the next session of Congress could balance the national budget. But whether there can be a tax cut next year is "problematical," he said. "Trying to balance the budget," he added, will be one of the major tasks of the coming session but "no one seems to be alarmed about it." Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has voiced hope for a balanced budget by next June 30.

Question Goes Unsettled About Mac Arthur, Russia

By JAMES MARLOW
(Associated Press News Analyst)

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—Since last April the Defense Department has been preparing a report on how Russia—with small cost and at great profit for Russia—was brought into the war against Japan.

IT REVOLVED around this question: Did or didn't Gen. Douglas MacArthur, before the Yalta Conference where the deal was made, recommend that Russia be brought in. He's been accused of that. He denies it.

The report, issued yesterday, is inconclusive although it would seem to bear out MacArthur not by what it says but by what it leaves unsaid. It's inconclusive for this reason:

The Defense Department itself says it didn't have time to go into all details, that it didn't have any records except its own, and that other officials outside the Pentagon had a hand in the deal.

THIS IS HOW the argument started: The Roosevelt-Churchhill-Stalin meeting at Yalta was held in February 1945. There Stalin was promised territory in Asia if he'd attack Japan. He agreed, and did, at the last minute.

The Republicans have criticized President Roosevelt ever since on the grounds that Russia's help wasn't needed and therefore the concessions to Stalin were unnecessary.

This much was known: The American Joint Chiefs of Staff, while MacArthur was in the Pacific, recommended to Roosevelt befre he went to Yalta that Russia should be brought into the war to divide Japan's strength, save American lives and help end the war faster.

LAST MARCH 16 the Eisenhower administration made public the hitherto more or less secret record of the Yalta Conference. The Democrats protested at once this was a political trick to hurt them.

And Sen. Lehman (D.-N.Y.) on March 22 said Roosevelt was advised by his military leaders, including MacArthur, to get Russia to attack Japan. Lehman did not say he knew for a fact MacArthur made such a recommendation. He assumed MacArthur did because he assumed the joint chiefs of staff would have asked MacArthur's advice.

The following day, MacArthur denied he had made such a recommendation. He said his views waren't asked and he didn't know the Yalta Conference was being held until it was over.

HE SAID THAT as early as five months before the Yalta meeting, in the fall of 1944, he considered Japan's collapse imminent and, if he had been asked about the need for Russian help, would have recommended against it.

On April 1 the Washington Post and Times-Herald editorially chided MacArthur for this denial and quoted from the diary of the late James Forrestal, navy secretary at the time, who visited MacArthur 16 days after the Yalta meeting.

Forrestal noted in his diary that MacArthur told him the United States should try to get Russia into the war. On April 3, two days after the editorial, MacArthur issued another statement.

He said there was a difference between what he felt before and after Yalta. Before Yalta he was against Russia's entry in the war. But once the President had decided at Yalta Russia should come in, then MacArthur had the responsibility for carrying out the decision and making recommendations for doing so.

MEMBERS OF Congress and the press, confused about the issue, asked the Defense Department to make public its records on the case.

On April 8 Secretary of Defense Wilson ordered his department to prepare the record and release it. But in making the record public yesterday, as mentioned above, the department said its report is not complete.

This much yesterday's report shows:

On Dec. 10, 1941, three days after Pearl Harbor, MacArthur, then in the Philippines, recommended to Gen. George Marshall, army chief of staff, that Russia be induced to attack Japan to take the pressure off this country in the Pacific.

(In his March 23, 1955 statement MacArthur said that at the start of the war in 1941 he thought Russia's help was needed but that by the time of the 1945 Yalta conference he thought the opposite because he thought Japan was falling).

THERE IS NOTHING in the record to show that MacArthur—after that recommendation in 1941—ever again urged Russian participation in the war until after the Yalta conference although in those years Roosevelt and the joint chiefs of staff hoped for Russian attack on Japan and eventually planned for it.

But the report does show that when MacArthur was informed of the results of the Yalta meeting, after it was over, he said he considered it "essential" that Russia be brought in before the United States tried to invade Japan and that invasion was the only way Japan could be licked.

MacArthur can argue, as he did in his April 3 statement this year, that in any recommendations he made about Russia's participation in the war after Yalta he was only acting in accordance with the decisions taken there.

Igniters Expect To Sign 25 More

Approximately 25 new members are expected to join the Kingston Igniters, local "hot-rod" club, at its regular weekly meeting at 7:30 p. m. today at the recreation center, 97 Broadway, it has been announced by Carl Cline, one of the founders of the organization.

Mr. Cline said the Igniters were particularly anxious to find a "drag," a stretch of land which can be used for driving. The organization also needs a small building which could be used as a garage and club house.

Between 60 and 70 yound men between 16 and 21 are now members of the local group. Refreshments will be served at the meeting tonight.

Search Continues Of Black Creek For Mrs. Fickler

The body of Mrs. Eula T. Fickler, about 35, of Kamak, Ga., who was thrown from a car into Black creek in a collision at West Park Sunday afternoon, was still missing today.

Highland state police and volunteers were still searching the creek as they have daily since Mrs. Fickler was flung into the torrent when the car in which she was a passenger struck the abutment of a bridge on Route 9W.

Mrs. Lucille Cody, 49, of 581 Broadway, a sister of Mrs. Fickler, died at Kingston Hospital early Monday morning as the result of injuries suffered in the accident. Charles Tucker, 31, driver of the car, and Abraham Tucker, 34, both of Nyack, were also admitted to the hospital. They were reported in good condition today.

Highland state police reported at the time that the car, traveling south on Route 9W, swerved across the highway, hit a guard rail on the east side of the road, spun around and hit the bridge. The door flew open and Mrs. Fickler was thrown into the water, according to the report.

Salvaged Lumber From Kingston Figures in Crash

Vincent Germano, 32, of 8 Mt. Carmel place, Poughkeepsie, who was badly injured Monday in a Hyde Park mishap involving a load of salvaged Island Dock lumber, was reported still in critical condition at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie today.

A car driven by Germano, state police said, crashed into the rear of a truck loaded with lumber salvaged from last weekend's flood.

REPORTS indicated that Germano suffered severe head injuries and loss of the left eye. The Poughkeepsie New Yorker said the injured man, whose left arm had been amputated at the elbow in a store accident when he was a boy, was driving a car owned by Anthony Germano when it collided with the load of lumber at 8:30 p. m., Monday.

John Kennedy, 33, of 9 New street, Kingston, was listed as operator of the truck, owned by Ready Mix Concrete, Inc., this city. It had been sent to pick up the lumber after Island Dock was notified by state police that it had accumulated at a point near Rhinecliff.

Kennedy was summoned to appear before a justice of the peace at Hyde Park Oct. 28 for hearing on a charge dealing with the alleged lack of a warning light on the rear of the load of lumber.

The load of two by six-inch planks extended beyond the back of the truck, authorities said and some of the planks smashed through the windshield of the Germano car and hit the driver, who was taken to the hospital in an ambulance summoned from Hyde Park fire headquarters.

Order of Moose Plans Enrollment Rites on Sunday

Former Mayor Eugene B. Carey and Joseph F. Sullivan, city historian, will be the principal speakers.

Tickets may be obtained from members of the committee on arrangements or from stores in the fifth ward.

Slayers Sought In Area Where 3 Were Seen Alive

Chicago, Oct. 20 (AP) — The search for the slayers of three boys was concentrated today in the area where they last were seen alive.

Fifty uniformed policemen and detectives were assigned to a house-to-house canvass of a northwest side around Milwaukee avenue and Giddings street.

The victims — Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11 — got off a bus there shortly before 9 p. m. Sunday night.

Some time between then and midnight, investigators figure, the youths were taken captive, beaten and strangled. Their nude bodies were found just after noon Tuesday in a forest preserve four miles west of the place where they left the bus.

THE MANHUNTERS, grim and methodical, sought to find the place where the youngsters were killed and to pick up their clothing or other clues.

Other officers were directed to question managers of riding stables in the area on the western edge of the city near the forest preserve. The young victims' eyes and mouths had been taped shut while they were held prisoner but the tape had been removed before the bodies were found.

The marks on their faces indicated the tape was two inches wide, a size that could be used in taping the ankles of horses.

"The killers knew what they were doing," commented Harry Glos, chief investigator for the Cook county coroner. "They removed the tape to avoid leaving fingerprints."

Deadline Tonight For Reservations AtLegionReunion

Approximately 50 reservations have been received for the 27th anniversary of the trip of Kingston Post 150 Drum Corps, American Legion, to the national convention in Dallas, Tex., in 1928, it was announced today by the local reunion committee.

No reservations will be accepted after tonight, it was announced. It was pointed out also that no one would be admitted to the dinner, scheduled for Tommie's Tavern, High street, at 7 p. m. Monday, Oct. 24, without a ticket.

Any former bona fide members of the drum corps who have not yet received an invitation are requested to call 1648 not later than tonight to request a reservation.

The celebration will reunite former members of the local drum corps.

Nixon Cites Gains

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Vice President Nixon says "American wage earners today have more jobs at higher wages, with greater purchasing power and less strikes than at any time in history." "And they have peace to boot," he added. Nixon credited this to the Eisenhower administration—and what he called its "dynamic conservatism"—in a speech last night at the 25th annual dinner of the New York group of the Investment Bankers Assn. of America.

Some Issues Settled

New York, Oct. 20 (AP) — A number of small issues were reported today to have been settled in negotiations between AFL Teamsters and metropolitan milk distributors. However, the "major money issues still remain unresolved," added a spokesman for the distributors.

THEY CAME TO DINNER — Princess Margaret and her mother, Queen Mother Elizabeth, walk through corridor of Lambeth Palace, London home of Archbishop of Canterbury, Oct. 19, to have dinner with the primate — head of Church of England — which opposes the possibility of a marriage between Princess Margaret, and RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend. Prior to dinner at which other members of the royal family were present, the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret attended a rededication of the Palace Chapel. Kellar Renews Plea to Form Area Flood Control Group

A reiterated plea that a committee be formed to investigate the possibility of flood control in the area was made today by Norman Kellar, Rosendale attorney and New Paltz farm operator, in a letter to the Freeman.

His property, Bontecou Farm, having been struck by "five disastrous floods within a period of 11 years," Mr. Kellar said he believes something can be done to prevent a recurrence of last weekend's disaster.

The letter follows:

"AS THE DIGGING out and clean up proceeds after two record breaking floods on the Wallkill river within as many months, farmers and townsfolk alike should stop long enough in their labor to ponder the questions. Was this flood necessary? Could it have been prevented? What can be done to prevent another such catastrophe?

"As one who has farmed the bottom lands of the Wallkill for the past eleven years and has been struck by five disastrous floods within that period, I have of necessity given some thought to the three questions propounded above. It is my belief that this flood could have been prevented and something can be done to prevent a recurrence.

"Over the Decoration Day weekend in 1952 a flash flood struck this valley. Thousands of acres of hay crops were ruined by the silt. Almost all the corn had already been planted on the bottom lands and had to be replanted. The economic loss must have run to many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

"This was the third disaster for me in eight years on the Bontecou Farm. The local papers were good enough to print a letter to the editor in which I pleaded with the valley farmers to form a committee to investigate the possibility of flood control. I regret to report that only one valley farmer, a poultry man who was nearly wiped out, responded to the appeal. All others were either too busy replanting crops which were soon to be ruined again, or so fearful of government help that they wouldn't help themselves, or so fatalistic about the floods that they just wouldn't try to do anything about them. The project was dropped. This attitude is best illustrated by a neighbor's wife who had read the letter to the editor, but told me there was no use in doing anything. She had lived on the Wallkill all her life. The river had always flooded and probably always would.

"OTHER VALLEY peoples have worked and planned and controlled their rivers. The Wallkill, too, can be controlled. I have no preconceived notions on how this should be done; whether by small upland dams, large valley dams or a combination of the two. In one of the last issues of the Conservationist there is an article on the taming of the upper reaches of the Susquehanna river which flows through South Central New York and Pennsylvania. This was accomplished by local people working and planning together and getting technical assistance from state and federal agencies.

"We can get help too, an Army Corps of Engineers is presently working in the county. There is the New York State Flood Control Commission. There are Federal Agencies concerned with flood ravages. One thing is certain, however, if we sit back and say "Nothing can be done. It has always been thus and will always be so." The Wallkill will flow its tortuous course and alternately provide us with crops and ruin.

"I wish to emphasize that this appeal is not addressed alone to the men who till the bottomlands. The local businessman suffers directly from the floods. The farmer who just lost $3,000 worth of corn is a poor prospect for a new car or tractor. The farmer who has planted his wheat three weeks ago at a cost of about $25 per acre, and has it ruined by flood waters will be a poor customer for anything until he can get on his feet again. Many of us here on the Wallkill river flats have lost our 1955 corn crop in August and our 1956 wheat crop in October. The profit margin in milk and poultry is not and will not for a long time to be great enough for a long time to overcome such a double catastrophe.

"SPORTSMEN are losers too. The floods destroy many animal and young game birds, silt the streams and ruin the natural cover for all animals. Flood control is a problem not only for the farmers but should interest sportsmen's associations, business groups and service clubs. What is here said about the Wallkill applies equally well to the Rondout and the Esopus.

"If there is enough local interest in a valley flood control project the writer will be happy to call a meeting in early November to explore the possibilties of taming the Wallkill. All interested persons are invited to communicate with me at Bontecou Farm—New Paltz, N. Y."

884 New Polio Cases

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—The states reported 884 new polio cases last week, the smallest number in six years for the comparable week. The total was down 15 per cent from the 1,037 cases in the preceding week, the Public Health Service said today. The 884 cases in the week ended Oct. 15 were only slightly more than half the 1,647 in the corresponding period of 1954.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—The stock market was buoyed today by continued good earnings and dividends in its fifth advancing session.

Gains ranged up to around 3 points at the best. Most major divisions showed plus signs of more than a point. Losses usually were small.

Trading was at a brisk pace as compared with recent slow sessions. It hit a rate of better than two million shares for the first time this week.

Better acting divisions included the oils, steels, railroads, chemicals, and coppers. There were many individual gainers in the list.

Name Omitted

In Tuesday's edition of the Freeman, Everett Hodge, president of the Ulster County Branch, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, expressed the association's appreciation to Negro churches in the area for their cooperation in supporting the fund appeal in the Emmett Till murder case in Mississippi. The Paradise Soul Saving Station, Meadow street, was inadvertently omitted in the listings.

Chest Directors Have $2,000 More to Give Seven Agencies

A little more than $2,000 will be distributed among seven 1955 members of the Kingston Area Community Chest, Inc., as a supplement to allocations already received this year, according to action taken by the Chest's board of directors at a meeting Wednesday night.

ACTOR DIES — Actor John Hodiak, 41, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at his home in Tarzana, Calif., Oct. 19. The handsome star collapsed in the bathroom of the home where he lived with his parents, sister and brother. (AP Wirephoto).

THE ADDITIONAL allotment was made from monies received on pledges made during last year's Red Feather campaign and does not involve funds collected in the current drive, which is for 1956 operational expenses.

The balance existed because the Kingston Boys Club was inactive during the first three-quarters of the year and at its own request drew no funds from the Chest. The Boys Club resumed operation in September and is again a Chest member agency for 1956.

Chest directors Wednesday night declared a supplementary distribution to its 1955 agencies on a proportionate basis, equal to five per cent of the basic allotment made following last year's campaign.

FOLLOWING are the amounts alloted each agency: YMCA, $555.00; YWCA, $355.80; Boy Scouts, $300; Jewish Community Center, $300; Salvation Army, $237; Boys Club, $204; Girl Scouts, $150. Total distribution is $2,101.80.

Additional funds that become available as the balance due on old pledges is paid will also be distributed to the agencies, according to Wednesday night's action, which followed a recommendation of the Chest's budget committee.

THE REQUEST for a supplementary distribution came from the Chest's planning committee, which pointed out that each agency was in need of funds due to the fact that the minimum budgets submitted last fall had been cut to 60 per cent after the first Red Feather drive produced approximately $58,000 in pledges against a goal of $85,000.

Because of this need, plus confidence that the current drive will reach its goal, decision was made to distribute the available balance rather than place it in a reserve fund.

Inoculations Are Given 2,159 Dogs

A total of 2,159 dogs have been inoculated at free rabies clinics in the county during the past week, it was announced today by the sanitation division of the Ulster County Health Department.

Three days of clinics have been held—Thursday, Oct. 13, and Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

A total of 284 dogs were inoculated October 13 in Woodstock.

On Tuesday a total of 1,086 dogs were inoculated as follows: Ellenville, 146; Gardiner, 230; town of Shawangunk, 170; Saugerties, 293; Cordt's Hose, 171, and Allaben, 76.

On Wednesday a total of 789 dogs were inoculated as follows: Kerhonkson, 159; Highland, 235; Wicks Hose, 217, and Port Ewen 178.

THE SANITATION division, which is conducting the clinics, reported inoculations running heavier than anticipated.

Clinics will be held from 7 to 9 p. m. today at the following places: Accord Firehouse in the town of Rochester, New Paltz Firehouse in the village of New Paltz, Town of Ulster Barn, Esopus Firehouse in the town of Esopus and the Excelsior Firehouse in Kingston.

The free clinics were made possible by the appropriation of approximately $8,000 by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors following certification of the county as an area where endemic rabies exists.

Early clinics have been scattered purposely to cover as wide an area as possible before the hunting season opens October 24.

Gregory Sentence Suspended by Court

Joseph Gregory, 29, of 24 Abeel street, who was arrested at 5:43 p. m., yesterday on a warrant charging third degree assault, was given a suspended sentence of 10 days in jail when he appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today and pleaded guilty.

The warrant was sworn out by Theresa Gregory and executed by Officers George Dohnken and Joseph Keller. Judge Mino indicated that the sentence was suspended pending good behavior.

Roosevelt Tripp, 21, of New Paltz, who was arrested by Officers Gilbert Gray and Francis Buchanan at Broadway and Foxhall avenue on a charge of driving without a license, and was issued a summons for passing a red light at Broadway and East Chester street, forfeited $20 bail. The arrest was at 12:32 a. m. today.

Roche Execution Off

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—Gov. Harriman has stayed for four more weeks the execution of rape-slayer John Francis Roche so that he might testify at another man's trial on a manslaughter charge. Roche was to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison tonight for the murder of Dorothy Westwateran ta 14 year-old Manhattan girl.

No Cases Ready

There were no cases ready for trial in Supreme Court this morning when court convened and Justice Deckleman excused jurors until 10 a. m. Monday. There will be no court Friday since Justice Deckleman will hold a regular special term at Troy.

Road Chairman of the state to accelerate the completion of an adequate highway system."

In Binghamton meanwhile, the Route 17 Association Inc. announced plans for a 400-mile motorcade from Lake Erie to New York city to drum up support for the bond issue.

George E. Knowlton Jr., executive vice president of the road group, said the caravan would leave Westfield, Chautauqua county, on Nov. 3, stop in Binghamton overnight, and arrive the next day in New York city. An outdoor rally has been scheduled in Triborough Stadium there.

The association has designated Nov. 4 as "Rout 17 Day" for communities along the highway. Knowlton said each community was expected to assign a motor contingent to the cavalcade.

Knowlton said modernization of the highway through southern and southeastern New York depended upon approval of the bond issue.

Only rebuilding of the highway, he said, would eliminate "the dangerous conditions which characterize certain sections of this lifeline of the southern tier."

Diefendorf declared that his commission had studied the question of fund diversion and had "found there was no diversion in the state of New York."

After completing its own study, he stated, the commission asked the Bureau of Public Roads to state whether its statistics showed any diversion.

He made public a letter sent him Oct. 10 from the bureau, which stated: "The Bureau of Public Roads does not take any position that the state of New York has diverted highway user funds to non-road purposes."

MacArthur . . .

Stalin asked there for territorial and other concessions, largely at the expense of China. He was given them, and pledged in return to enter the war against Japan three months after the defeat of Germany.

AS MATTERS developed, the Russians came in six days before Japan's surrender.

In the years since, critics of the Roosevelt administration have contended the Yalta concessions are to blame for many of the western world's present difficulties in the Far East.

Some Democrats have replied that Roosevelt acted on the basis of military advice, including that from MacArthur.

It was in the light of this argument that the Pentagon agreed to make public an edited record as to the entry of Russia into the Pacific war.

The documents quote MacArthur directly only twice.

The Pentagon record did include summaries by two War Department officers of conversations they said they had with MacArthur when they reported to him in February 1945 the decisions reached at the Yalta conference which arranged for Russian entry into the war.

Senior Slays Self

Potsdam, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—A 17-year-old high school senior shot himself to death yesterday after an argument with his girl friend in which she said he pleaded with her to "quit smoking." Joseph P. Corbett fired a .22-caliber rifle bullet into his chest. Mrs. Florence Dunlop of Madrid, St. Lawrence county coroner, said she would issue a certificate of suicide. Miss Myrna Watson, 17-year-old classmate of Corbett at Potsdam High School, told state police the argument occurred while the two were sitting in Corbett's car parked in the driveway of her farm home about 10 miles east of Potsdam.

Abbey Street

166 Clifton avenue
Editor, the Freeman:

This letter is written in answer to remarks made by Senator Arthur Wicks and printed in the Freeman on October 18, 1955. In his remarks he referred to the fact that Abbey street construction was completed before I spoke on the same subject, which incidentally, was tape recorded the previous Monday. What the senator did not admit is that Abbey street was torn up in the middle of July and was left unfinished and practically unworked-upon for three months time.

I consider his ridiculous remarks not only an attack upon me personally but more important, an outright attack upon the intelligent voters of the Third Ward, many of whom, along with their alderman, were well aware of the dangerous condition the city administration had permitted Abbey street to remain in for so long a period of time. These same voters are also aware that Abbey street was placed at my request on the list of streets to be repaired during the 1955 street repair program and also that once the street was torn up, I made numerous calls to the mayor and superintendent of public works to hasten the completion of this project.

I also commented on the same subject at the October meeting of the Common Council. All of these calls and comments were made during the three months that Abbey street was in a dangerous condition. Perhaps the senator is not so well informed as he pretends to be. Perhaps he too should "take a look see."

In closing, I wish to point out that my record during the past six years in the Common Council is a public record, open even for the senator's scrutiny. It is a record of which I am proud and which cannot be destroyed by distorted statements.

In conducting myself in the Board of Aldermen, I have always endeavored to stand for what is right and what is good for the residents of the Third Ward and the City of Kingston.

This attitude and this record is well known by the residents and voters of the Third Ward in whom I have the utmost confidence and respect.

Yours sincerely,
EDWIN F. RADEL,
Alderman, Third Ward

Would Include Communist China

United Nations, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—The Soviet Union is asking the United States to throw open the proposed international atoms-for-peace agency to all countries—including Communist China.

The Russians oppose a provision in the draft statute for the agency that would limit the membership to the 84 nations in the UN and its specialized agencies. That would keep Red China out.

The United States and seven other western atomic powers submitted the statute last Aug. 17 to the 84 prospective members with a request for their comments.

The Soviet Union gave its comments in a note handed the U. S. Embassy in Moscow Oct. 3 and made available to a correspondent here. The note, without naming names, says:

"Any state, whether or not it is a member of the United Nations or a specialized agency, should be entitled to become an initial member of the International Atomic Energy Agency."

Oil Men Dine Here

The dealers of the Kingston branch of the American Oil Company met Tuesday night at the Rainbow Inn for the presentation of the company's introduction of new super permalube multiple viscosity motor oil. The meeting was conducted by J. A. Scobie and H. E. Koch Jr., special division merchandisers for the Albany division. C. O. Fromer, local agent of American Oil Co., introduced the speakers and arranged the meeting program.

Car Is Demolished

A 1946 sedan blew a tire on Route 28 about two miles west of West Hurley at 1:30 a. m. today, causing the car to skid and turn over. The car was reported completely demolished by Trooper J. Gorman but the driver, Thor Krogh, 38, of West Shokan, escaped injuries. Trooper Gorman said the car was traveling about 40 m.p.h. at the time of the accident.

CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., THURSDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 20, 1955. TWENTY-ONE

Along Capitol Corridors

By CHARLES DUMAS

Albany, Oct. 20 (AP)—New York state Republicans may be preparing to offer an answer to their party's big 1956 question: If not Eisenhower, then who?

Feeling is growing here that the state GOP may be itching to test the old saw about the third time never failing and pitch for the nomination of Thomas E. Dewey.

THIS ASSUMES, of course, that President Eisenhower will decide to call it quits after one term.

Lately, two members of the Republican brass have cited Dewey as a possible presidential candidate in 1956.

THOMAS CURRAN, Manhattan Republican chairman who served as Dewey's secretary of state when the latter was governor, said he was sure Dewey would sweep the state if he should run.

Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits said it would be "logical" to assume New Yorkers would offer Dewey to the Republican National Convention next year as a "favorite son."

SINCE DEWEY stepped out of the leading role on the state's political stage, a small group of Republicans, which includs Javits, has been charting the party course.

The inference is drawn that, when Javits mentions Dewey as a "favorite-son" choice, the matter has been discussed in the Republican back rooms.

Another member of the Republicans' inner circle, State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse, also had something to say this week about presidential possibilities.

MORHOUSE, in speeches, has been preparing the party faithful for the possible eventuality that Eisenhower won't seek re-election. The heart of Morhouse's argument has been that any other "progressive Republican" can and will win in 1956.

Tuesday night in Schenectady, Morhouse asserted that any one of several Republicans, "in or out of government," could carry on the Eisenhower program.

That, too, would appear to be a reference to Dewey, since the only other man "out of government" so far has been mentioned as a presidential possibility is Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother.

But how about Dewey outside the state?

THE MAIN OBJECTIONS to the former governor presumably would come from Republicans who'd shy away from backing a two-time loser and those who were strong for the late Sen. Robert A. Taft at the 1952 convention, where Eisenhower was nominated.

One of the Taft men, Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, made quite a point at the 1952 conclave of pointing to Dewey's 1944 and 1948 defeats in the presidential race in arguing against the forces Dewey organized to promote nomination of Eisenhower.

Possibly the overwhelming Eisenhower victory dispelled some of the anti-Dewey sentiment, although some political observers believe a serious attempt to nominate Dewey would touch off an even more bitter battle than the Taft-Eisenhower slugfest.

SOME WHO READ the signs say it's not unreasonable to expect Eisenhower to tap Dewey to succeed him, even though Vice President Nixon is seen to hold a place of favor in the President's official family.

Certainly, Dewey was a principal figure in the 1952 convention battle—on Ike's side. And the former governor repeatedly has appeared publicly, both in and out of office, as a champion of the Eisenhower administration's policies.

Mayor Calls

come surcharged and overflow, thus causing our streets to be flooded and cellars filled.

In addition to these conditions, we have along the Abeel street part of the city and the Strand a condition which I would like to see corrected. This applies also to the Murphy street section. It would seem to me that the flooding caused by the Rondout and Esopus creeks, are, and always have been, potentially dangerous.

I therefore suggest that the Board of Public Works cause a study to be made by our engineers with respect to alleviating the flooding caused by the three brooks, piping them perhaps or enlarging the storm water sewers. This will be a costly operation but perhaps financial assistance can be procured from either the state or the federal government.

Insofar as the Esopus and Rondout creeks are concerned, I definitely believe that we should receive aid and assistance from the federal and the state governments to the end that this condition will not occur again. The situation with respect to the Esopus and the Rondout is very properly part of the National Flood Control Plan now being discussed in the many areas that have suffered as a result of the recent floods.

OF THE WILBUR intersection the mayor said:

For considerable time there has existed a dangerous intersection at the corner of Wilbur avenue and West O'Reilly street.

These two streets are becoming very heavily used and I propose that steps be taken to widen the turn in both directions up and down Wilbur avenue, and afford greater visibility for those coming out of West O'Reilly street, as well as those coming up and down Wilbur avenue.

THE BOARD .authorized. a new street light and the change of a light on Yeomans street, the change of a light on VanBuren, and the change of another on Progress street.

Mayor Stang proposed that a check be made of a dark spot on New street to determine what can be done there, and that, with several requests for new street lights from aldermen, were referred to the light committee.

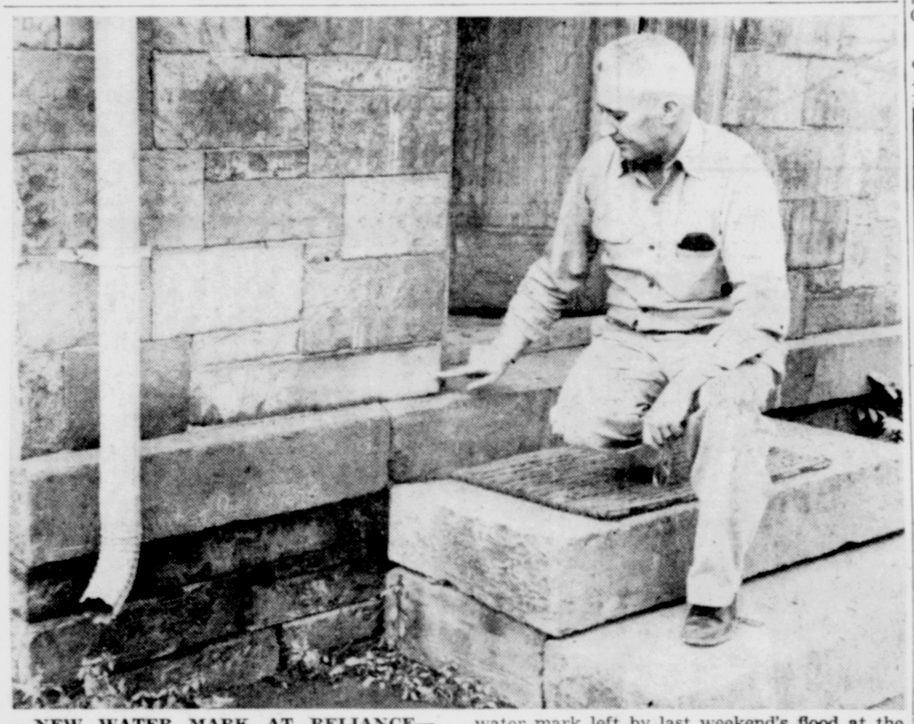

Alderman Abram D. Relyea, 11th ward, asked for a light on South Washington avenue, and Mrs. D. N. Secore, of 16 South Washington avenue, in a letter indicating that a light was badly needed, suggested that if one were placed near her property, it would sufficiently light the area.

Alderman Joseph Wenzel, fourth ward, asked for a light on Locust avenue, off Ulster street, which, he said, was a wooded section. Third Ward Alderman Edwin Radel asked for a light on Farrelly street between Flatbush avenue and Lincoln street, where, he said, new homes were built.

Find Car in Lake

About 3 p. m. Wednesday the sheriff's office was notified there was a car standing in about five feet of water in Devil's Lake. On investigating it was found the car was owned by Thomas Rundle of 67 O'Neil street. The investigation disclosed Rundle was in the car at the time it went into the lake but he managed to escape safely. The circumstances surrounding the accident were not immediately ascertained.

Children Die in Fire

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 20 (AP)—Five young children died today in a fire that swept through a four-room frame house and seriously burned their parents. In less than an hour, the house burned to the ground, leaving the five little bodies identifiable only by size. The eldest of the victims, Leonard Maloney, 5, was found near the back door, and the youngest, Elaine, 6 months, was in the charred remains of the parents' bed.

Farmers May Get New Assistance For Flood Disaster

John S. Geary, chairman of the Ulster County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, today reminded farm owners that emergency conservation practices have been added to the county program to provide ACP assistance to flood disaster victims.

The practices made available, Mr. Geary said, include rehabilitation of crop, hay and pasture lands damaged by flood water, reconstruction of fences damaged by flood water and protecting streambanks.

THE FEDERAL cost-sharing rate for rehabilitation of lands is 70 per cent of the cost of debris and sediment removal and land shaping as determined by the county committee.

For reconstruction of fences damaged, the federal cost-sharing rate is 20 cents per rod of fence for the wire and 30 cents per post for new posts.

RATE OF federal cost sharing for protecting streambanks is 70 per cent of the cost of protective measures installed as determined by the county committee.

Application for cost sharing for these practices may be made at the ASC office, 54 John street. Application must be made before the practices are started, Mr. Geary said.

At birth, Maximilian, emperor of Mexico, held the rank of Archduke of Austria.

Cases Settled In Supreme Court

An action to recover for injuries suffered in a fall on Election Day 1953 by Agnes Hegeman on the property of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Ellenville was settled in Supreme Court Wednesday after it had been partially tried. The action was brought against the church and the village of Ellenville. John F. Larkin appeared for plaintiff and Charles H. Gaffney for the village of Ellenville. Arthur B. Ewig appeared for the church.

An action to recover for property damage brought by Millard Green and another against John J. McCardle, Inc., was also announced settled. Thomas F. Saccoman for plaintiff and Cashin & Ewig for defendant.

AT THE AFTERNOON session four other actions were announced settled after Justice Deckleman had held pre-trial conferences. Following announcement of the settlements jurors were excused until 10 a. m. today and court recessed.

An action on a check brought by Arnold Kahn against Morris Levine, etc., was settled. Joseph Taeffe for plaintiff and Abraham Streifer for defendant. A contract action brought by Rocco Germano against Giuseppe Ramello and another was settled. Michael Nardone for plaintiff and William H. Gruner for defendant. A libel action brought by Miguel Garriga against Jack Townsend and others was settled. H. Edgar Timmerman for plaintiff and H. L. Luxemburg for defendant. Beechford Farms, Inc., of Boiceville brought an action against Ben C. Lane and others to recover on three promissory notes. This action was also announced settled. H. Edgar Timmerman for plaintiff and Layman G. Snyder for defendants.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Pork is the No. 1 buy in meat this week. It's available in food stores and supermarkets from coast to coast at bargain-basement prices.

Roast loin of pork heads the list of weekend specials in many markets—and if you want to serve it with homemade apple sauce, you'll find apples cheap and plentiful also. For this is "National Apple Week," an annual sales promotion event timed to coincide with the peak harvest season.

SMOKED HAM is another feature item on meat counters this week. Beef rib roasts and sirloin steaks are moderately priced, as is shoulder of veal. Roast leg of lamb, although still relatively high, has been marked down four cents a pound by major food chains in several U. S. cities; one big chain is featuring a weekend special in loin lamb chops.

Biggest reductions, however, are for pork. In some parts of the country, prices of center cut pork chops are down as much as 10 cents a pound.

FRYING CHICKENS are a little higher in price in some cities, reflecting higher quotations at wholesale, but still constitute an excellent buy. Retail prices in the weeks ahead are expected to move up. Marketers, who had been burdened with record-breaking supplies of young chickens, have now succeeded in selling off most of the glut. So prices are likely to firm up until the next big crop of birds reaches the market.

Potatoes and onions are again the "outstanding" buys in produce—and marketing specialists say the quality for most types is better than usual for this time of year.

Long Island potatoes are in the forefront in eastern markets; Idaho, Washington, Oregon and California varieties are highly popular elsewhere.

CABBAGE, cauliflower, lettuce and greens are plentiful and moderately priced in most parts of the country. Also listed as good buys are peppers, egg plants, southern cucumbers, Canadian rutabagas, and Virginia snap beans.

High on the list of outstanding produce buys are apples. This is the time for harvesting—from the great apple growing valleys of the Pacific northwest to the homestead orchards of Maine. The crop, estimated at 105 million bushels, is of excellent quality for most verieties. Cortland, MacIntosh and Delicious apples are among the most attractively priced this week.

Pears are also very much in season—Bosc, Russet, Comice, Bartlett and Seckel pear are available at moderate prices almost everywhere.

CITRUS FRUITS, both from California and Florida, are coming to market in increasing volume. Strawberries and raspberries from west coast truck farms are putting in an appearance here and there but shipments are not yet sufficiently large to force prices down to bargain levels.

Egg prices, still on the uptrend, may start falling again soon. Production—at a record rate in September—moved still higher this month. So far, however, unprecedented consumer demand has held egg prices well above year-ago levels. Top grade eggs have been wholesaling at about 50 cents a dozen in midwest markets against 35 cents a year ago.

Gardiner

Gardiner, Oct. 18 — Reformed Church—There will be regular services next Sunday with the pastor, the Rev. Kenneth Cordes in charge. The worship service last Sunday was conducted by laymen of the church. Frank Agor gave the call to worship. The Lord's Prayer and responsive reading was by Paul Arnold, scripture reading by Raymond DuBois and pastoral prayer by Charles Rhinehart, introduction to Layman Sunday and sermon by Frank Agor and Allan DuBois, Benediction by the Rev. Mr. Cordes. The all men's choir consisted of Roy Every, Frederick Franks, Miner Franks, the Rev. Mr. Cordes, William Keeping, Fred Biegle-spoker and Jacom Honold, Sr., gave the anthem.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pizzuto spent the weekend with her father, David Relyea of Reading, Pa.

Mrs. Jesse Davis of Williams Lake is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wells.

Roy Every spent Monday in New York city.

Miss Whilma Hoffman spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. F. Osterhout of Kerhonkson

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Andersen, daughter Joan and son Bobby of Schenectady were weekend guests of Hans Andersen and daughter, Miss Mary Andersen.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Decker of Theills were weekend guests of her mother, Mrs. Fannie Pizzuto. Mrs. Louise Calananot and son of Long Island, Mrs. Rose Mucco of Brooklyn and Mrs. Michael Gerese and family of Arlington, N. J., were also Sunday guests.

A Forest Glen Home Bureau unit met at St. Charles parish house last Thursday. The first session on foods, "Ulster County Products" was given by the leader, Mrs. Giles Randall, Sr. Lunch was served after which a short business meeting was held.

The Gardiner Civic Association will sponsor a Halloween party in the town garage Friday at 7 p. m. The grand march for the little children will be at 7:30 o'clock and later for the older children. Prizes will be given and refreshments served.

Apples and Marshmallows Make Halloween Treat

THEY'RE SPECTACULAR LOOKING as well as good eating. Try these simply-made Kabobs for a Halloween special event.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Apple Marshamallow Kabobs go well with toasted franks. They seem perfect for the Halloween party supper. We learned about them in the state of Washington which prides itself on its red Delicious apples.

Apple Marshmallow Kabobs

Red Delicious apples, marshmallows, cinnamon, granulated sugar.

To prepare, cut red Delicious apples into wedges and remove seeds. String apple wedges on metal skewers alternately with marshamallows. Sprinkle apples with a mixture of cinnamon and granulated sugar. Slide under the broiler for a few minutes to toast marshmallows and tinge the apples with brown freckles of cinnamon sugar. The apple wedges do not cook—they are crisp and cool inside, with the skin and outside lightly blistered and crusty. These Kabobs may also be done on long wiener forks over an open fire or in the fireplace. For a special treat, try this Apple-Cheese Dessert.

Apple-Cheese Dessert
(6 servings)

Five cups apple slices (pared), 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ¾ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ½ cup sifted flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup table fat, 2/3 cup grated cheese.

Fill pie pan or shallow baking dish with apples; sprinkle with lemon juice and ¼ cup of the sugar. Mix cinnamon, flour, salt, and the other ½ cup sugar. Cut in fat until mixture is granular. Stir in cheese. Spread over apples. Bake in 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) until apples are tender—about 40 minutes. Cool before cutting to serve. Serve with plain cream or ice cream, if desired.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Fried frozen fish fillets, tartare sauce, new potatoes with parsley, broccoli with lemon butter, enriched bread, butter or margarine, orange and lettuce salad, apple-cheese dessert, coffee, tea, milk.

What, Sugar in your coffee? Aren't you on a reducing diet?

Sugar's part of my diet—for its "energy lift." And 3 teaspoons of Domino Sugar contain fewer calories than your half grapefruit!

It's smart to stay slim and trim and get Domino's "Energy Lift" too!

WHICH IS LESS FATTENING?

Yes, 3 teaspoons of Domino Sugar actually contain fewer calories than ½ medium grapefruit!

Sure, you need Domino Sugar to sweeten coffee, tea and your favorite foods. But equally important . . . Domino Sugar supplies quick-energy—fast. Faster than any other food.

What's more, there are only 18 calories in a teaspoon of Domino Sugar. That's fewer calories than in many "reducing diet" foods! So if you're reducing, remember: "Sugar-starved" people often lose pep and energy instead of weight! Just as Grapefruit is famous for its health values—in a well-balanced diet, Domino Pure Cane Sugar helps supply the quick food-energy you need every day for pep and vitality.

So be smart . . . use a sensible amount of satisfying, low-calorie, high-energy Domino Sugar at every meal . . . for only one sugar is Domino Pure.

Recess Is Taken

Ft. Meade, Md., Oct. 20 (AP)—The court martial of Maj. Ronald E. Alley, army officer accused of collaborating with his Communist captors, has recessed until Friday after hearing psychiatric testimony that Alley has a split personality. Dr. Bernard Glueck, leading Washington psychiatrist who was a close personal friend of the late Sigmund Freud, said yesterday of the strapping army officer from Bar Harbor, Maine, "if my judgment of his condition is correct, he was not accountable for his actions in Korea."

Mack Strike Ends

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—A one-day strike at four Mack manufacturing plants in New Jersey and Pennsylvania ended last night in agreement on a three-year contract providing wage increases and other benefits. The settlement came after marathon negotiations starting Monday morning between management representatives and officials of the CIO United Auto Workers Union. Affected are 6,000 workers at plants in Plainfield, New Brunswick and Bridgewater township in New Jersey and one at Allentown, Pa.

Relyea Lauds Civil Defense

Charles Relyea, chairman of the Ulster county Board of Supervisors, today lauded the Ulster-Kingston Civil Defense for its assistance to the people of the county during the recent floods. Mr. Relyea's letter to Col. Allan L. Hanstein, director, follows:

Congratulations to you and your staff for a difficult task well done!

THE PEOPLE of Ulster county, I know, are deeply appreciative of the splendid work of your organization during the recent flood emergency. Every one of your people pitched into the fight to help their fellowman without a thought of danger or hardship to themselves. The time and effort so unselfishly given resulted in savings in life, limb and property that are inestimable.

It is indeed a comfort to know that we have such an agency as yours here in our county. We can be and are justly proud of it.

Again, my sincere thanks to you and to every member of the Ulster-Kingston Civil Defense organization for the magnificent cooperation rendered during the emergency.

Hoover Gets Award

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover has been cited by the American Medical Assn. for his work as honorary chairman of the board of trustees for the National Fund for Medical Education. At his Waldorf Towers suite yesterday, Hoover was presented with the Frank H. Lahey award for "outstanding leadership in medical education."

Bricker Renews Stand on Older Men and Fathers

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—Sen. Bricker today renewed over Pentagon opposition his call for discharge of older men and fathers drafted into the armed forces.

The senator said such men "have no real business in the armed forces under circumstances existing today."

Carter L. Burgess, assistant secretary of defense for manpower, wrote Bricker in an Oct. 8 letter released by the senator yesterday that "automatic, wholesale early releases from the armed forces would seriously impair our combat readiness."

BURGESS ALSO said there are no plans now to stop drafting older men and fathers. A study now underway of the possibility of inducting younger men first will probably take months to complete, he added.

"Many of the older (Selective Service) registrants were deferred from service at a time when others had to go in their stead to battle the enemy in Korea," Burgess said. "Those persons being inducted at this time are not faced with the same unpleasant duties."

Bricker started the exchange Sept. 30 with a letter noting he had seen several published reports that there soon would be no further draft of older men and fathers. He recommended that the military services release men over 26 and fathers before the end of their two-year terms.

IN HIS SECOND letter dated yesterday, Bricker said the number of men who would be released must be "relatively small."

"I am sorry that your reply promises no action on a matter that is of critical importance to men who were long deferred and finally drafted after their circumstances had greatly changed," the senator said.

A close study of hardship cases, he said, would show "that in calling up older men and married men with children, the government imposes burdens far out of proportion to any possible benefit to national defense."

Releasing Patents

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced today the release for general use of 37 patents it owns dealing with various atomic processes, and instruments and containers for radioactive substances. The action raises to 804 the numbers of patents released in what it said is part of its program to make non-secret technological information available for use by industry. The AEC said it is prepared to grant non-exclusive royalty-free licenses for use of the patents through its offices here.

Why We Say--

DUNCE

The word dunce originally meant a very learned person. Dunce came into the language from the name Joannes DUNS Scotus, a learned scholastic philosopher (1265-1308) . . . To be called a dunce was a mark of distinction. The word, though, later was applied satirically to ignorant and stupid people and that definition has remained.

Banking Is Topic At Rotary Club

Stanley R. Talbot, executive vice president and treasurer of the Fishkill Savings Bank of Fishkill, N. Y., discussed banking at the Kingston Rotary Club luncheon-meeting Wednesday at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The talk was in connection with the observance of Know Your Bank Week, which is currently being observed in New York state having been proclaimed by Governor Harriman.

The speaker reviewed the federal and state charters of the commercial and savings banks institutions and the savings and loan. Functions of the Federal Reserve System and the large banks in the metropolitan area also were explained by the bank executive.

Savings banks, he said, were first organized in 1816 and despite wars and economic depressions not a penny was ever lost by a depositor in a New York savings bank.

The part banks played in the progress of the country through credit needs of businesses, thrift and home building was outlined by the speaker.

Vice President Howard Shurter presided and Program Chairman the Rev. Clyde H. Snell introduced the speaker.

Call Ruling 'Farce'

Miami Beach, Fla., Oct. 20 (AP)—Officials of the AFL Hotel Employes Union today planned to continue a campaign to organize resort hotels in this area and called the Florida Supreme Court's adverse ruling a "legal farce." Bert Ross, the union's international vice president, said the Florida high court's ruling would be appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court, "where we have every reason to anticipate a decision which will provide Florida with a law by which hotel employes will enjoy the same constitutional rights as do their fellow workers in other industries." The State Supreme Court yesterday said in a unanimous opinion that the union acted unlawfully when it threw picket lines around 22 hotels in Miami Beach and Miami. The court said the union represents only "an insignificant number" of the hotel workers.

Nearly 700,000 tons of steel went into "tin" cans for beer and soft drinks in the United States in 1954.

Takes Issue With Javits on New Youth Authority

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Deputy Commissioner Joseph H. Louchheim of the state department of social welfare opposes the concept of a state youth authority, as proposed by Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits.

Javits recently suggested creation of an authority to coordinate prevention and treatment programs for youthful offenders and juvenile delinquents.

Louchheim expressed his opposition yesterday at the final session of the three-day 47th annual state conference on probation.

He said "we do not need a super-structure. We need to add more substance in the form of personnel and program to...already existing agencies.

'YEARS AGO in this state," Louchheim said, "the battle was fought and won to treat the under-16 not as a criminal but as a juvenile delinquent. Today, many of the protections and services rendered to these juvenile delinquents are being applied to the youthful offender."

"Adequate agency structure to deal with youthful offenders" is already in existence, he added.

The conference delegates rejected by a large majority a resolution criticizing presiding Justice John Warren Hill of the New York City Domestic Relations Court for reportedly instructing his probation workers not to attend the conference sessions during working hours.

DIRECTOR of Probation Edward J. Taylor said it was not "definitely established" that Hill issued such an order and, even if he had, "his prerogative...if he felt the work in his court was too pressing."

The resolution was introduced by Samuel Kane, a Brooklyn court probation officer.

The delegates voted to hold next year's conference in Elmira.

Dies in Church Fall

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—Angelo DiSalvo, 69, a carpenter, was fatally injured yesterday after a fall from a 20-foot scaffold in a church that was under repair.

Better Future Seen

Detroit, Oct. 20 (AP)—Chevrolet Motors, which is smashing all production and sales records this year, expects to do even better next year. T. H. Keating, general manager, told a press preview audience last night that the 1956 objective will be 2½ million cars and trucks. This year's volume, he said, will rang around 2,300,000 units, including 90,000 units assembled in Canada. Going further, Keating said, he saw "in the foreseeable future" the possibility of a Chevrolet volume of three million vehicles a year. He described such a total as "neither impossible nor impractical."

Reports Record Sales

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—The Eastman Kodak Co. reports record-high sales of $487,284,358 for the first three quarters of 1955. Net earnings, after taxes, of $57,982,467 were equal to $3.15 per share of common stock, the company said yesterday.

Actress Loses $3,360

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—Movie actress June Havoc told police last night she had lost a wallet containing $50 in cash and checks worth $3,310 while watching a film at the Paramount Theatre. Miss Havoc, who is appearing at a Buffalo night club, said there was a $3,300 check made out to her and a $10 travelers' check in the wallet in addition to personal papers. She is staying at the Hotel Touraine here.

Mrs. John Comstock Speaks at Meeting Of Social Agencies

The Welcome Wagon Hostess, Mrs. John Comstock, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies October 19 at 74 John street.

Welcome Wagon, explained Mrs. Comstock, is a personalized plan of public relations sponsored by civic minded businessmen. The plan originated in Memphis, Tenn., in 1927 as a personal local welcoming service and has expanded through the years into a national organization. Over 4,000 hostesses serve 1400 cities in the United States, Canada, Hawaii and plans are being made at the present time to carry this service into European countries.

Of the six different calls sponsored by the Welcome Wagon, Kingston hostesses, Mrs. Comstock and Mrs. Gifford Beal, specialize in newcomer calls in this area. They distribute courtesy cards and small gifts from businessmen, literature of local civic and social organizations, church listings and a greeting from the Chamber of Commerce to all newcomers to Kingston.

So successful is the Welcome Wagon in Kingston that plans are now underway to initiate this service into Saugerties.

Captain Andrew Hickey, president, conducted the business meeting and announced the next regular meeting will be held Nov. 21.

Townsend Meeting Held in Jamestown

Mr. and Mrs. David N. Stoller of 222 Elmendorf street, recently returned from a trip to Jamestown, where they attended the New Yorg state convention of Townsend clubs. Sessions were held in the YWCA auditorium.

Mr. Stoller, national councilman of Region No. 2 and Mrs. Stoller, president of the local Townsend club, addressed the convention sessions. Merlin Casterlin, Townsend director of New York state presided.

Charles Wettennan, club director from Townsend national headquarters in Cleveland, O., gave the keynote address.

A smorgasbord dinner was served.

En route to Jamestown, the Stollers were guest speakers at a rally of all Binghamton and Johnson City Townsend clubs, held in Townsend Hall, Main street in Binghamton.

Sisterhood Supper Attracts 110 Women

The Sisterhood of Ahavath Israel served approximately 100 women at the paid-up membership supper on Wednesday evening, October 12, in the Vestry Hall on Wurts street.

Those in charge of preparing the supper were the Mmes. Dave Seigel, Ida Werbalowsky, George Muller, Murray Greene, Rose Samuels, William Zwick, and Carl Speigel. Waitresses included Mmes. Larry Jacobs, Ben Schechter, Albert Cambi, Ephraim Propp, August Cohen, Harry Brines, Irving Wilpan, Lester Sharkin and Harold Pinkus.

Mrs. Rubin Magil, from Philadelphia and a member of the executive board of the National Women's League was guest speaker. She gave a very interesting talk on the "Meaning of Sisterhoods."

New members welcomed by the Sisterhood were Mrs. Melvin Navy and Mrs. Etta Kish.

Mrs. Aleksander Narel was guest soloist.

Members were reminded by the committee that the rummage sale will be held in the Vestry Hall, Tuesday, Wednesdany and Thursday, Nov. 1, 2 and 3. Clothes for the sale may be left on the front porch for collection, Sunday morning, October 30.

Plans have also been formulated for a Harvest Masquerade Dance to be held on October 29, in the Vestry Hall. Chairman for the affair is Mrs. Frank Noble.

Candidates Will Speak at Dinner

The Kingston Townsend Club No. 1, will hold its 11th annual turkey supper and bazaar Saturday, Oct. 22, in Mechanics' Hall, 14 Henry street and the guest speakers will be Mayor Frederick H. Stang, Republican candidate for relection, and William F. Edelmuth, Democratic candidate for mayor. The evening will be an unusually fine treat for everyone attending and will offer a wonderful opportunity to become better acquainted with the two men running for office.

Also at the speakers table will be Merlin Casterlin, Townsend director for New York state. Mr. Casterlin will speak briefly about the Townsend plan and future activities.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

CO-HOSTESSES

"A friend and I gave a large party together a year ago. Many of our obligations were to the same people so we thought we would give one large party together to repay these obligations. It worked out very well.

"We would like to give another party this year but a problem has arisen on which I need your help. There are two women on the other hostess' list whom she would like to invite to this party. These women are very snobbish and as a matter of fact have cut me on two occasions. I not only do not want their company but do not want them to think I am bidding for their friendship by inviting them to a party.

"The party is to be held at my house this time and under the circumstances I think these two names should be taken off the guest list and my friend invite them at another time. She refuses to do this and says that they are her guests and not mine and they will be under no obligation to me. Nevertheless, I think she should consider my feelings in the matter and not invite them.

"Should they be included; could my name be eliminated from the invitation sent to them? Please let me hear from you."

Under the extreme circumstances that you describe I am astonished that your co-hostess insists that they be invited. I think your suggestion of eliminating your name from their invitation would be possible.

When Saying "Goodby"

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend tells me that you said it was better not to look for the hostess to say "goodby" at a large party and to say thank you for having invited you. To me this sounds very rude and I can't believe that you have made any such statement. I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter.

Answer: I said that if you are leaving a large, general party very early, it is better to slip away quietly than to call attention to your departure. But I did not say that you should fail to say good night under ordinary circumstances.

Zelasko-Buono Nuptials Are Held

St. Patrick's Church in Catskill was the scene of the wedding of Miss Mary Madeline Zelasko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Zelasko of William street, Catskill, to John S. Buono, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buono Sr., of Glasco.

The ceremony was performed Sunday, Oct. 16, at 3 p. m., with the Rev. F. Raymond Sellman, VF, officiating.

For the occasion the sanctuary was decorated with white and pink gladioli and lighted tapers.

Peter Di Tucci, organist played the traditional wedding refrains.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of rose point lace and nylon tulle over satin. The fitted lace bodice held a Peter Pan collar which accented a keyhole neckline. The bouffant flared skirt was of lace with tulle panels in the sides over two layers of tulle. The lace continued down terminating in a chapel train. Her headpiece consisted of a Queen's crown of seed pearls and iridescent sequins which supported a finger-tip veil of pure silk illusion. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink roses with white pompons and carnations.

Her sister, Miss Edna Zelasko served as honor attendant and wore an emerald green taffeta strapless gown fashioned with a torso waistline and a matching shrug. Her headpiece was a pillbox hat of matching velvet and she carried an old fashioned bouquet of rust and yellow pompons.

Brother of the bridegroom, Joseph Buono of Glasco served as best man and the ushers included Edward White of Alsen and Albert Buono of Glasco.

The bride's mother wore a mauve lace dress with navy accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in an ice blue dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A reception for 70 guests was held at the Ridge Colony in Catskill where a turkey dinner was served and Joseph Vigna and his orchestra played for dancing.

For the wedding journey to the southern states and Florida the bride chose a cherry red knitted suit with black accessories and a corsage of white baby orchids.

The bride is a graduate of St. Patrick's Academy in Catskill.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Saugerties High School is employed on the Thruway as a toll collector at the Saugerties interchange.

Upon their return from the wedding journey they will make their future home at the Phelps Apartments on Main street, Catskill.

Hurley Grange

The Hurley Grange will sponsor a dance in honor of the Hurley Brownies, Saturday at the Hurley fire hall. Round and square dancing from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. Music by Floyd Barringer's orchestra. Public is invited.

Over 200 Attend Hadassah Dinner

Over 200 members attended Hadassah's paid-up membership dinner meeting this week. Mrs. N. B. Gross and Mrs. Jack Epstein were co-chairmen of the dinner, and with their committee prepared and served an excellent meal. Members of their committee were: Mmes. B. Suskind, I. Werbalowsky, I. Meyers, M. Berman, V. Schwartzberg, L. Alcon, L. Kline, J. Epstein, S. Schwartz, C. Warshaw.

Following the dinner, Mrs. Oscar London, president of the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah, welcomed the many members in attendance and then conducted a short meeting.

Mrs. J. Smolen, program chairman, in a brief but effective ceremony, initiated the new members who, each in turn, were then introduced, welcomed and presented with a corsage.

The evening's program was concluded with a hilarious and appropriate musical comedy skit entitled, "The Hat Becomes You," under the direction of Mrs. J. Smolen. Cantor Julian Lohre provided the piano accompaniment. Members of the cast were: Mmes. M. Baron, M. Navy, A. London, G. Zielengold, R. Naigles, K. Kapen, M. Lipton, D. Kline.

This dinner meeting was the culmination of the Hadassah membership drive with Mrs. G. Starkman serving as membership chairman; Mrs. A. Striefer, co-chairman; Mrs. J. Honig, financial secretary; Miss Ruby Marksson, treasurer. Those who worked on the membership drive were: Mmes. B. Schecter, P. Wendrow, G. Farber, A. Cohen, A. Field, D. Kline, L. Ellenbogen, M. Berman, and N. B. Gross, I. Schwartz, S. Goldfarb, L. Schwartz.

The dinner reservations were handled by Mrs. L. Schwartz. The work of tables and waitresses was under the chairmanship of Mrs. S. Wolff, Mrs. E. Wetterhan, and Mrs. H. Kaplan. Members of their committee were: Mmes. J. Melton, M. Crystal, V. Schwartzberg, P. Glickman, A. London, H. Speisman, S. Mann, S. Rudisch, S. Goldfarb, B. Schecter, Wm. Flax, L. Kornfeld. Coffee and tea; Mrs. I. Meyers and Mrs. B. Suskind.

The chairmen commented upon the splendid teamwork of their committees which helped make this dinner meeting an outstanding and successful affair.

MRS. ROBERT J. STRINI

(Pennington Studio)

Carol Zeidler Weds At Nuptial Mass

Miss Carol Theresa Zeidler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Zeidler of 84 West Pierpont street, became the bride of Robert Joseph Strini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bonfiglio Strini of Ellenville, at a nuptial Mass in St. Peter's Church, Saturday, Oct. 15 at 10 a. m.

The Rev. William Reynolds performed the double ring ceremony.

At the Organ was Miss Nan Goldrich and Cornelius Heitzman sang "Panis Angelicus" and the "Ave Maria."

The Rev. William Duggan of Yonkers, formally of Ellenville and a friend of the young couple was seated in the chancel.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and chrysanthemums and white satin bows marked the pews.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Donald Zeidler and she wore a ballerina length gown of Duipioni pure silk, a panel at each side of deep accordian pleats with a torso cuff and a sash ending in a deep 'V' at the back. The tightly fitted bodice with a shallow neckline was trimmed with a border of lace and had a tiny shirred cap sleeve. The tiarra was studded with rhinestones and pearls and had a shoulder length illusion veil. She carried a lace covered prayer book on which was placed a white orchid. The prayer book had been used by her late grandmother at her own wedding 70 years ago.

Miss Mary Jane Medve was the maid of honor and she wore a Kelly green nylon chiffon ballerina length dress made in Grecian style, tightly draped at the waist and a very full skirt. Her hat and veil matched her dress.

The Misses Ruth Best and Lois Deyo were bridesmaids and they, too, wore ballerina length dresses in beige. Their hats and veils matched their dresses.

Bruno Strini, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and ushers were Robert Molloy, brother-in-law of the bridegroom and friends Ted Horn and Edward Jennings, all of Ellenville.

A reception was held at the Alpine for approximately 75 guests.

The bride is a graduate of St. Peter's School and St. Ursula Academy. She is a service assistant for the New York Telephone Company.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Ellenville High School and is employed by IBM in Poughkeepsie.

The bride chose as he traveling ensemble a black wool outfit with black velvet accessories and she wore a corsage of orchids.

After a wedding journey to Canada and the western states, the couple will reside at Kingston Manor Place.

World's first chain of grocery stores, in ancient Rome, is said to have been operated by a man named Lucius.

New Project Opens For 4-H Members

"Breakfast Is Ready" a new project, will be open to 4-H Club girls and boys in Ulster county, Patricia French, assistant county 4-H Club agent announces.

Leaders in the 4-H Club project, "Breakfast Is Ready," will meet for a training session, Thursday, Oct. 20, at 7 p. m., in the Vocational Building in Kingston. The meeting will be conducted by Miss Mildred Dunn, extension specialist in food and nutrition from Cornell University.

The project is planned to help 4-H Club members plan, prepare, and serve adequate breakfasts for themselves and their families.

Miss Dunn will discuss why people eat little or no breakfast and why an adequate breakfast is important. Principles of cereal and egg cookery will be stressed. The leaders will prepare a breakfast to consist of fruit, cereal, egg, a quick bread, and a beverage.

The leaders will also receive help in teaching the project to members of their clubs.

Charles L. Wallis To Speak Saturday

Charles L. Wallis, professor of the department of English at Keuka College, Keuka Park, will speak at the annual meeting of the Ulster County Historical Society at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Saturday, Oct. 22, at 6:30 p. m. His topic is "Interpreting Today by Yesterday's Folk Patterns".

Vice-president of the New York Folklore Society, Mr. Wallis is the author of a recently published book of epitaphs, "Stories On Stone," and an article based on his book was published in the Saturday Evening Post. He is a graduate of the University of Redlands in California, received his BD from the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School and an MA from the University of Rochester.

Storm Hits Japan

Tokyo, Oct. 20 (AP)—A Pacific storm hit densely populated central Japan with winds up to 44 m.p.h. today, flooding and wrecking houses, sinking boats and killing at least six persons. The storm, spawned in the Pacific two days ago as a typhoon, had dropped to a gale. But the wind and rain wrought heavy damage in the industrial cities of Osaka, Kobe and Nagoya. Rail traffic was snarled, boats were swept to sea and over turned and bridges and roads washed out in the 100-mile wide Kansai plain.

Club Notices

Ahavath Israel

Registration for Sunday school at Ahaveth Israel will be held Sunday, Oct. 23 at 10 a. m., in the vestry hall. After registration, an assembly will be held, led by Rabbi Jacob Rubenstein.

Conductor Strike Off

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—A threatened strike by conductors on the New York Central Railroad's division between New York city and Buffalo, N. Y., has been averted by settlement of a dispute, a railroad spokesman reports. Details of the settlement were not disclosed. The railroad spokesman said agreement was reached yesterday in the dispute—over rules changes and how they would affect the men's pay—at a meeting presided over by Federal Mediator G. S. MacSwan.

Dispels Merger Fears

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 20 (AP)—Fears that the forthcoming merger of the AFL and CIO will produce "practically a monopoly" are unfounded, says AFL President George Meany. He said yesterday the merger will not "create any great power" and that "we want no dictators, not even a labor dictator." Speaking at the annual convention of Printing Industry of America, Inc., a trade association, Meany said "fears have been expressed as to what is going to happen" when the AFL and the CIO become a single organization.

There is no town at Jamestown, Va., site of the first permanent English settlement in North America.

Girl Scouts Plan UN Trip Oct. 22

Over 185 county girl scouts and 18 adult scout leaders plan to visit the UN Saturday, Oct. 22 in commemoration of UN Week. Mrs. James Kelly is the general chairman of the project assisted by Mrs. Arthur Chipp of Kerhonkson.

The UN trip is sponsored by the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts. It was initiated as a yearly custom on Oct. 23 with nearly 100 Girl Scouts and Leaders in attendance. Important as a part of an on-going program in international friendship, preparation for the event affords an opportunity to emphasize in the troops that "A Girl Scout is a Friend to All and a Sister to Every Other Girl Scout." As a registered girl scout, each girl member is a part of a world association. This association was formed in 1928 to encourage friendship between girls of all nations. In order for a country to be a full member of the world association, scouting or guiding must be available to all girls regardless of race, religion, or political faith. The United States is a member country.

New this year will be an added feature, the "Drama of the Skies," scheduled for the group at the Hayden Planetarium at noon. The tour of the UN will take place at 2:45 p. m. The group will leave New York at 4:30 p. m., returning to centers in Ulster county about 8 p. m.

Scouts will leave Crown Street Terminal at 8 a. m. with those at Rosendale, New Paltz and Wallkill boarding at their local terminals. Local Scouts will be joined at Crown Street Terminal by one large bus routed earlier through Phoenicia and Woodstock. Another bus will originate at Kerhonkson, stopping at Ellenville and Accord, and traveling directly to New York, meeting the delegation at the Planetarium. All girl scouts and adults making the trip will take their own lunches. Further information may be obtained by contacting the local Girl Scout office.

23rd Parley Futile

Geneva, Oct. 20 (AP)—Ambassadors of the United States and Communist China met for the 23rd time today in their effort to ease tension in the Far East, but made no announcement concerning their discussion. They disclosed they would meet again Oct. 27—the day the conference of Big Four foreign ministers opens in Geneva. Unless their talks are moved into a different office, they will be meeting only a few yards from the council chambers where the foreign ministers' deliberations are being held.

The 18th, or Prohibition, Amendment to the United States Constitution is the only one to ever have been repealed.

Board of Water Commissioners of the City of Kingston, New York
PAUL J. SCHATZEL,
Secretary

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the resolution published herewith has been adopted by the Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 8, of the Town of Ulster, Ulster County, New York, on the 9th day of October, 1955, and the validity of the obligations authorized by such resolution may be hereafter contested only if such obligations were authorized for an object or purpose for which the said School District is not authorized to expend money, or if the provisions of law which should have been complied with as of the date of publication of this notice were not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of publication of this notice, or such obligations were authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Dated: Kingston, New York,
October 18, 1955.
REGINALD RUSSELL
School District Clerk

BOND RESOLUTION
DATED OCTOBER 9th, 1955.

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF AN ADDITIONAL $56,000 SERIAL BONDS OF UNION FREE SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 8, OF THE TOWN OF ULSTER, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK FOR THE CONSTRUCTION AND EQUIPMENT OF A SCHOOL BUILDING FOR SAID SCHOOL DISTRICT.

WHEREAS, a proposition was duly adopted at a special district meeting of the qualified voters of Union Free School District No. 8 of the Town of Ulster, Ulster County, New York, on October 8, 1955, authorizing the Board of Education of said School District to expend a sum not exceeding $56,000 for the construction and equipment of a school building for said School District, including the improvement of the site therefor, which sum is in addition to the $774,000 previously authorized for such object or purpose at a special district meeting of the qualified voters of said School District held on March 15, 1955; and

WHEREAS, it is now desired to authorized the issuance of the additional $56,000 serial bonds of said School District for such purpose;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT

RESOLVED, by the Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 8 of the Town of Ulster, Ulster County, New York, as follows:

SECTION 1. To pay part of the cost of the construction and equipment of a school building for Union Free School District No. 8 of the Town of Ulster, Ulster County, New York, including the improvement of the site therefor, there are hereby authorized to be issued $56,000 serial bonds of said School District pursuant to the Local Finance Law.

SECTION 2. The maximum estimated cost of such object or purpose is $830,000, and the plan for the financing of such maximum estimated cost is as follows:

a) By the issuance of the serial bonds of said School District heretofore authorized by a bond resolution dated March 22, 1955; and

b) By the issuance of the serial bonds of said School District herein authorized.

SECTION 3. It is hereby determined that the period of probable usefulness of the aforesaid object or purpose is, pursuant to the provisions of subdivision 11 of paragraph a of Section 11.00 of the Local Finance Law, thirty years.

SECTION 4. The faith and credit of said Union Free School District No. 8 of the Town of Ulster, Ulster County, New York, are hereby irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same respectively become due and payable. An annual appropriation shall be made in each year sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds becoming due and payable in such year. There shall annually be levied on all the taxable real property within said District a tax sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same become due and payable.

SECTION 5. Subject to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, the power to authorize the issuance of and to sell bond anticipation notes in anticipation of the issuance and sale of the serial bonds herein authorized, including renewals of such notes, is hereby delegated to the President of the Board of Education, the chief fiscal officer. Such notes shall be of such terms, form and contents, and shall be sold in such manner, as may be prescribed by said President of the Board of Education, consistent with the provisions of the Local Finance Law.

SECTION 6. The validity of such bonds may be contested only if:

1) Such bonds are authorized for an object or purpose for which said School District is not authorized to expend money, or

2) The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of this resolution are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

3) Such bonds are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

SECTION 7. This resolution which takes effect immediately, shall be published in full in the KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN, together with a notice of the School District Clerk in substantially the form provided for in Section 81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

Wicks Proposes Tillson Road for Emergency Cases

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, in a letter to Bertram D. Tallamy, chairman of the New York State Thruway Authority, today recommended that action be taken to provide an entrance and exit from the Thruway to the village of Tillson which was isolated during the recent floods.

"There were no means of entrance to or exit from the village except on the Thruway, which is now prohibited," the senator said.

Sen. Wicks said he strongly recommended that some action be taken at once by the Thruway Authority "to correct this unfortunate condition.

The senator suggested that possibly a locked gate could be erected, the key to be in the possession of the maintenance men in the vicinity, 'to permit doctors, firemen with their apparatus, merchants and others necessary for the protection of life and property, to enter and leave the village on the Thruway in the event of an emergency."

Sen. Wicks told Mr. Tallamy he sincerely hoped immediate steps would be taken to protect the village from complete isolation in any future disaster.

Jury Frees Widow

Elizabeth, N. J., Oct. 20 (AP)—A well-to-do widow who beat her husband with a riding crop the day before he died an apparent suicide, was free today of atrocious assault and battery charges. It took a Union county jury less than an hour yesterday to find Mrs. Lucille Schroeder, 52, of Summit, innocent of the charge. The grey-haired widow, a former dancer, burst into sobs upon hearing the verdict, but regained her composure before leaving the courtroom. Her husband, George Baker Schroeder, 50, died last Jan. 18 from an overdose of barbituates. During the three-day trial, Mrs. Schroeder described him as a man who couldn't leave liquor alone.

Carpouzis Scores 43 In Back's 104-71 Win

YMCA Cagers on Scoring Spree

Floods in the area may have subsided but you can't prove it by Valley Gardens. The Accord club got caught in a swirling stream of points as Back's Seniors, paced by George Carpouzis' 43 points, opened the gates for a thumping 104-71 victory. Harry's Angels copped the companion attraction, defeating Wimpy's, 90-85, in the YMCA twinbill.

To say that Carpouzis was the complete difference in the ball game would be today's masterpiece of understatement. He had a phenomenal percentage in shooting from the outside, taking 23 shots and making 18.

THIS PROLIFICY, coupled with Dick Chatham's work off the boards, tore gaping holes in the Valley Gardens defense. Chatham contributed 16 points while Jerry Kaplan racked up 18. Marty Anderson grabbed the individual honors for the losers, pouring in 19 points.

Harry's Angels and Wimpy's went down to the wire before the final score was resolved after the lead changed 11 times.

WARD DUNHAM, who bucketed 38 points, was outstanding on his floor game and Bud Scheffel, scoring 18, handled his rebounding chores superbly.

The Smith brothers, Beaky and Jake, kept Wimpy's in contention with their fast breaks and corner shots. Jake dumped in 28 points and Beaky was right behind him with 25. Both had 11 field goals apiece.

The Angels led a meager two points at the intermission but turned on a 31-point splurge in the third period to widen the breach.

Rickey to 'Retire' Nov. 1 But Will Remain in Game

If it's Doubletalk It's Also Rickey

Pittsburgh, Oct. 20 (AP)—Branch Rickey will retire as general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates Nov. 1 after more than 50 years in baseball—but he's not through with the game yet.

"I am 'retiring', but you can put quotes around that word," he declared yesterday. "I no longer want to punch a clock and I intend to see the Pittsburgh club play more games the coming season than I have for the last two or three."

The front-office wizard, who took St. Louis and Brooklyn to National League championships, couldn't turn the trick here. In his five years as general manager and executive vice president, the Bucs finished out of last place only once, in 1951, Rickey's first year with the club.

THERE WAS no mention of his successor, but speculation centered on Branch, Jr., now vice president in charge of the Pirate farm system, and another Pirate executive, Joe L. Brown, son of movie comedian Joe E. Brown.

Rickey himself said, however: "I think Branch is best suited in the job he handles right now."

Rickey's five-year contract with the club reportedly paid him $100,000 a year. He had the option of renewing it for five more.

"I am not severing my affiliation with the Pirates, unless John Galbreath and Tom Johnson want me to. But I don't believe they do," Rickey said.

GALBREATH millionaire Columbus, Ohio, real estate man, is president of the club and Johnson, a Pittsburgh attorney is vice president and treasurer.

Rickey, who will be 74 in December, went on:

"From now on, my interest will be players. The radio, television and other baseball problems will be handled by someone else. * * * I will do some scouting, maybe a lot of it, in the interest of the Pirates."

Rickey came here from Brooklyn in 1950. He said then the Pirate job was the biggest challenge of his life. Since he signed the original contract he has bought stock in the club, reportedly about $250,000 worth.

Kingston Game Starts at 7:30

Kingston High's football game with Mont Pleasant of Schenectady will start at 7:30 p. m., Friday, instead of 8 o'clock as previously announced.

Athletic Director G. Warren Kias said the game would be played at McNierney Stadium on Jackson avenue in Schenectady.

The KHS school band and one busload of students will make the trip.

Hearing Slated For Suspended Owner, Driver

Buffalo, Oct. 20 (AP)—The New York State Harness Racing Commission will hold a hearing Nov. 3 for a horse owner and a driver who were suspended after an investigation at Batavia Downs and the Buffalo Raceway at Hamburg.

Commissioner George P. Monaghan told the Buffalo Courier-Express last night the "open hearing" would be held in Batavia.

BOTH THE DRIVER, Charles B. Wingate of Westbury, N. Y. and the owner, Don J. Camardo of Rochester, have denied and are contesting the charges that led to their suspensions.

Camardo, suspended indefinitely on Oct. 10, has been accused of asking driver Joseph Hodgins to help him (Camardo) win a race at Buffalo Raceway.

Wingate was suspended for the balance of the racing season for what the commission called "not fairly contesting a race at Buffalo Raceway last July."

Rote at End For Pro Giants Against Steelers

Kyle Rote, the New York pro football Giants' ace, will start at right end against the Pittsburgh Steelers Sunday at the Polo Grounds.

This is something of a switch for the former Southern Methodist backfield wizard, who is normally a halfback. But the Giants' offensive captain and perennial Pro Bowl star is considered one of the best pass receivers in the league.

Last year Rote caught 29 passes. Rote is an all 'round athlete of brilliance. In a brief whirl at minor league baseball he hit well over .300 and played first base, outfield and catcher. Once in a celebrity golf tournament he shot 75-70. Only Cary Middlecoff beat the 70.

The Yale-Columbia rivalry marks the oldest in the history of the Ivy League. They first met in 1872 when the Elis conquered the Lions, 3-0.

Browns' Gatski An 'Iron Man'

Cleveland, Oct. 19 (AP)—Frank Gatski, 240-pound center for the Cleveland Browns, goes after his 100th pro football game without relief Sunday against the Green Bay Packers.

The 33-year-old West Virginian, with the Browns since they were organized in 1946, says he has no thought of retiring for a long time.

Gatski inherited the center job when Mike Scarry retired in 1948 and has been the only man in the middle of the Browns' offense ever since.

KINER ENTERS NEW PHASE — Former National League home run king Ralph Kiner, 32, signs one-year contract in San Diego, Cal., as general manager of the Pacific Coast League's San Diego club. James B. Lane, president of the fish packing company which owns club, stands behind Kiner. Kiner, who signed at a reported $25,000 salary, was released by Cleveland Indians in order to take the front office job.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano

Bowling in the area becomes of age, so to speak, with the start of the national match game eliminations in the Hudson valley district.

Full credit for the project should go to Johnny Ferraro, proprietor of the Bowlodrome who tried unsuccessfully several years ago to interest his fellow proprietors.

A few dollars held up the program in those days. But the financial obstacles have been hurdled and, even though the first eliminations will show no profit, it will be the long and belated step in the right direction.

It is regrettable the eliminations weren't held a few years ago when Ferraro, Nick Leoce, Phil Versace, Tony Mack and others were at their career peaks. They are still tremendous bowlers but have lost the sharp edge, and perhaps the determination to drive themselves.

When Ben Hogan announced his retirement from competitive golf a few days ago, he said he could no longer concentrate or drive himself to get ready for major golf tests. The same thing may have happened to the illustrious group listed above.

But if sports are for the young, then it opens up new horizons for youngsters like Buster and Jackie Ferraro, Jerry Oster, Chris Gallo and the other young stars around the Hudson valley.

• Splits and Misses:

Early season average shockers in the HVBL: Sammy Fisher 176, Dick Rhea 178, Robby Robins 173. . . . The 1953 American Bowling Congress tournament at Chicago drew the all time record entry of 8180 five-man teams. . . . William "Chief" Mueller, the Poughkeepsie bowling great, is still seriously ill. . . . Johnny Ferraro will hook up with Morris Cramer, the former Cohoes flash, in the National Doubles tournament. The two hotshots will also form the nucleus for a five-man squad in the team eliminations. . . . Cramer sold his Cohoes drives and now works for the Hoffman interests at Albany. He said he enjoyed his stay in Chicago but big time bowling is an exclusive area where only a few make real money.

• WIBC Tourney to Miami:

The nation's women bowlers have an added inducement for the 1956 WIBC championships. They are scheduled to start April 19, at colorful Miami, the winter playground of the nation. The Miami locale offers a splendid opportunity for an extended vacation which may include the whole family. Reservations will be accepted by Secretary Emma Phaler at the WIBC headquarters office, 694. S. High street, Columbus, Ohio, on and after Nov. 1. Meeting dates are May 7 and 8 at the Bayfront Auditorium. The WIBC is operating its tournament in three divisions starting with this Miami tournament. Division I is for teams with averages of 751 and up; division II with averages between 651 and including 750; and division No. 3 for teams with 650 and below.

Sylvia Wene and Steve Nagy are being sought for an exhibition appearance in conjunction with the valley singles elimination finals. . . . Little Paul Marian, 5 feet 2, of Chicago twice has bowled an 865 series in ABC sanctioned league play. The only higher score on record is the 886 by Allie Brandt of Lockport, N. Y. . . . A once-in-a-million scoring oddity popped in the ABC tournament on April 30. Brad's Tavern of Poughkeepsie and T. J. Byrne Service of Binghamton, rolling on adjacent alleys, had the same game-by-game totals in the open team division. The scores were 904, 945 and 918 for 27767.

Whenever they say, "bowlers are funny people," bear in mind you might be one of them.

Hak-kaff!

Pardon my expression of bronchial disorder, gentle readers, but last weekend's lengthy visit of Jupe Pluvius left me with deleterious strepto cocci in my larynx.

However, despite the wetness, it was another triumphant weekend for Hoople. Of the four contests played, all resulted in wins or defeats as yours truly had forecasted. That brings the total for the past three weeks to 12 correct prognostications in 13 attempts. Terrific, eh, wot?

The rains flooded my Woodstock hideaway, forcing me to seek refuge in the gelid forest. During my stay in the out-of-doors, I contacted a case of madarosis. This, I believe, was due to my being forced to subside on a steady diet of the histiopterus recurvirostris, which inhabits streams in that area. However, steady draughts of xylidine should relieve me of my condition.

I nearly fell victim to several creatures with predaceous inclinations. I must here acknowledge a word of thanks to my faithful companion Canisius.

When my sojourn in the wilds had ended, I returned to my retreat and put my fecund psyche to work translating hieroglyphics. My studies turned up several discoveries which I put to use predicting the outcome of football contests.

I brought out my old reliable crystal ball. Under my new formula, the image within it rapidly became perspicuous.

THE OLD BOY HIMSELF

The simulacrum resembled a high peak of land. At its apogee was a lone figure, his face reflecting nepenthe habits. Soon I was able to discern the writing on a tablet he clutched in his outstretched hand.

The tablet read: "Beware of the corpulent crew from the Dorpian regions! Their maladroit maneuverings are deceiving, for their fingers have colloid properties. Go ye not northward with faineant attitude."

One must surmise that the message concerned the Mont Pleasant football team, Friday night opponent of Kingston.

Therefore, relatum indicates that the Dandies of Dietz are doomed to defeat. Vai victis!

And now, another set of forecasts:

Mont Pleasant 20, Kingston 12.
Poughkeepsie 14, Taft 13.
Peekskill 28, Middletown 7.
Port Jervis 18, NYMA 14.
Highland 13, Arlington 6.
Saugerties 26, Onteora 13.
Pawling 33, New Paltz 14.

Smith Balks Carter's Bid for Fourth Title

Buffalo Buys Easter

Buffalo, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Buffalo Bisons of the International League today conditionally purchased the contract of Luke Easter, first baseman from Charleston of the American Association.

Confusion Reigns At Bout's End

By FRITZ HOWELL

Cincinnati, Oct. 20 (AP)—In as merry a mixup as you'll find in fistiana's annals, Wallace (Bud) Smith held on to his lightweight championship last night.

Smith, the 26-year-old Cincinnatian, halted three-time champion Jimmy Carter's bid for a fourth title via decision—and what a decision it was. No one is certain today whether it was split or unanimous.

Smith weathered a bruising 13th round, in which he was in rubber-legged trouble all the way, and finished the 15-rounder in good shape. Then the 6,693 paying customers and a nationwide television audience sat back to await the verdict.

JUDGE'S scorecards were collected from Willie Purcell, Joe Blink and Gene Nietschze. The collector handed the cards to Paul D. Cain, chairman of the Cincinnati Boxing Commission, who looked 'em over.

The collector went back to Blink's side of the ring, card in hand, for a hurried consultation. The ring announcer then told the folks:

"Judge Purcell, 143 for Smith, 139 for Carter. Judge Blink, 140 for Smith, 140 for Carter. Judge Nietschze, 143 for Smith, 135 for Carter."

That made Smith the winner on a split decision.

Ten minutes later Commissioner Cain told newsmen he had rechecked the cards and found that Blink's added up to 143 for Smith, 139 for Carter, and that the decision was unanimous.

BUT JUDGE Blink, who at 70-odd is the tired city circulation manager of the Cincinnati Times-Star, tossed everything into confusion again by stating:

"I don't care how they add it. I voted for Carter, 144 to 140."

That made it a split decision again, but by that time the television audience was watching some other program.

Commissioner Cain observed: "We must go by the figures on the card. It was unanimous for Smith."

But Blink, still judging two bouts after the main event, was adamant in his declaration that 'I voted for Carter, 144 to 140. It's still split as far as I'm concerned.

The Associated Press card gave the fight to Carter by 144 to 141.

NO EXPLANATIONS of how the 140-140 draw figure for Blink's card was arrived at, and no announcements of any kind relative to the verdict were made from the ring after the first rundown of how the judges voted.

The judges awarded the winner of a round 10 points, the loser a lesser amount, and 15-round totals decided the fight. The referee, Tony Warndorf, had no hand in the balloting.

There were no knockdown in the scrap, which saw Carter cut in the right eye in the third round. He fought from the eighth on with the optic closed.

Smith was unmarked, although he took a terrific battering in the 13th when Carter belted him into the ropes with a series of rights and lefts to the head and body.

Both fighters weighed 135.

Racing Group Denies Threat to Saratoga

Racing as Usual At Upstate Track

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Residents of Saratoga Springs and other upstate communities had the assurance of the Greater New York Assn. today that it had "never discussed or considered the abandonment of racing at Saratoga."

A delegation from Saratoga Springs met yesterday with John W. Hanes, president of the board of trustees of the GNYA, and B. A. "Tommy" Tompkins, the new racing association's administrative president.

The upstate group, headed by Mayor Addison Mallery of Saratoga Springs, was concerned over rumors the GNYA planned to make changes detrimental to the Saratoga Track, oldest in the country. There has been pressure to race in the New York city area during the month of August, when the horses go to Saratoga.

"WE MAY SAY unequivocally that we never have discussed the abandonment of racing at Saratoga," Hanes and Tompkins said in a joint statement after the meeting. "We never have discussed or considered doing anything that would depreciate the quality of racing at Saratoga."

Tompkins said he planned to visit Saratoga shortly and hoped to start immediately some work in the stable area. He said plans for other rehabilitation of the track, such as grandstand or clubhouse, was just as uncertain as the plans for tracks in the Metropolitan area.

SARATOGA, Belmont, Aqueduct and Jamaica now are run by one association, the GNYA, which bought up all stock earlier this month.

The delegation expressed its approval and Mallery said there are plans for new motels, and development of hotels and other properties in and around the upstate resort city.

In addition to Mallery, the delegation included Robert L. Quinn, chairman of the Saratoga Chamber of Commerce; Frank T. McCue, publisher of the Daily Saratogian, and Frank P. Williams, member of the Chamber's racing committee.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By WARREN PAGE

Gun bugs are a hard crew to get along with. They're a bunch of perfectionists, always scratching around for something superduper, and living under the pleasant delusion that the people who make guns and ammunition are in business for the love of it.

The gun companies are altruistic, to a degree few people realize, in that they spend more money, time and energy on conservation projects and conservation legislation than the man in the street (or better, field) ever dreams. But when they design a new product, it has to have some chance of paying its way.

TAKE THE NEW .358 Winchester has recently announced. A number of people stopped me on the street or nailed me on the phone to wonder how come they hadn't plumped for the .35 Whelen. There, said the gun nuts, is a cartridge, a gamebuster proven in hundreds of rifles and on thousands of assorted elk, moose and such.

The .35 Whelen is a fine cartridge, no doubt about it. The idea of necking up brass from our standard military case, the .30-06, so it would handle .35 caliber slugs weighing as much as 275 grains, and shove 'em out of there with a ton and a half of energy is sound. It makes for sudden death among our larger game animals.

That the .35 Whelen is a wildcat is nothing against it. A factory duplicate, or near-duplicate to give it a little more shoulder to sit properly in the chamber, could be worked up very easily, and such a round would work through the standard lengths of bolt actions.

BUT WHEN the Winchester-Western technicians began thinking about a modern knock-em-stiff cartridge that would sell, they had to figure a lot of other angles.

The .358, which is the compact .308 case opened up for .35 caliber bullets, makes a finished round that is short enough to feed through the action of the most modern lever gun, the Winchester Model 88. And it will also feed through a short bolt-action, or a short semi-automatic action, should Winchester happen to come up with either. If starts from the same disc of cartridge brass that is the genesis of the .308 and the hot new .243, and the drawing processes are the same until pretty well along in case manufacture.

IT DOESN'T kick your ears back. A load as potent as the .35 Whelen would do that to most people less recoil-sensitive than you or I, from rifles as light as the Model 88 and the Model 70 Featherweight.

We can go on like this for hours. But no matter how you cut it, when the gun companies come out with something new, they've figured a lot of angles to get the mostest both for themselves and for the shooter, without anybody going to the poorhouse.

Syracuse Owner Refuses Offer

Syracuse, Oct. 20 (AP)—Martin Haske has turned down an offer by representatives of Mayor Donald H. Mead's civic baseball committee to buy his International League baseball club.

Haske, who has announced he would not operate the club next year, stood firm on his asking price of $105,000. The amount offered was not disclosed but it was said to be substantially lower.

The committee's one-month option to buy the club expired yesterday but Haske said he would tell its subcommittee today whether he would grant an extension.

Haske has said he no longer could stand the losses incurred in running the Chiefs for two years.

Beware Cops Palisades Pace

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—Beware, a 9-1 shot, scored a length victory in the Palisades pace before 15,352 at Yonkers Raceway last night. The 4-year-old gelding, owned and driven by Jack Brown of Macon, Ga., covered the mile in 2:06.2 and paid $21.20, $8.60 and $5. Frances Jewell was second and Indirect Boy third.

SEATED—State loyalty seems to take a back seat in this example of Oklahoma originals at a New York fashion show. Yvonne Cravens of Oklahoma City models blue jeans with a map of her state sewn on the seat.

Football Briefs

HAMILTON, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—Colgate is reading its aerial warfare—both offense and defense—for Saturday's football game with Yale at New Haven.

Coach Hal Lahar set up defenses against the passing of Yale's Dean Loucks yesterday. Then the attack was sharpened in a long scrimmage. Quarterbacks Tom Van Note and Guy Martin completed several long heaves to end Milt Graham.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—Cornell has bolstered the defense on its flanks in preparation for Princeton's single-wing attack.

Football Coach Lefty James switched Fran Vadney, a 205-pound senior, from left to right tackle and assigned Roger Garrett, a sophomore from Robesonia, Pa., to left tackle.

Vadney, from Delmar, stood out in scrimmage yesterday as the Big Red worked on defense. Cornell meets Princeton here Saturday.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—Assistant Coach Rocco Pirro predicts that Syracuse will be tougher than any of unbeaten Maryland's football opponents to date.

Pirro reported yesterday that he had scouted the nation's No. 2 team in three games.

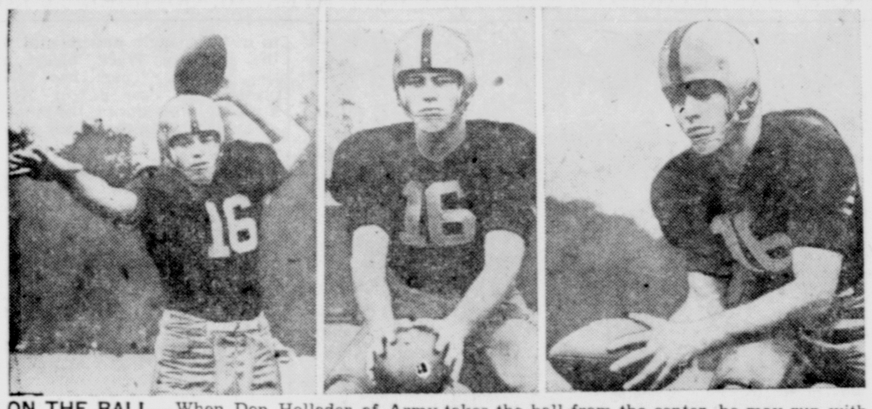

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder promoted Gus Zaso, a game-hearted line bucker, to the starting backfield. Zaso was outstanding in last Saturday's victory over army.

Quarterback Eddie Albright and halfbacks Jim Brown and Jim Ridlon round out the Orange backfield, which worked hard yesterday developing a ground attack to dent the Maryland defense.

The Terrapins are first in the country at stopping the opposition ground game.

Clasby Still the Class

Cambridge, Mass. (AP)—Dick Clasby of Harvard still holds the Ivy League ground gaining record for one season. He gained 950 yards during the 1952 campaign.

ON THE BALL—When Don Holleder of Army takes the ball from the center, he may run with it, hand off or pass left-handed. The big end switching to quarterback is one of the college season's more interesting experiments. They say his carrying will surprise.

Rangers Gain 2d Spot in NHL

(By The Associated Press)

Rookie Coach Phil Watson had his New York Rangers in second place in the National Hockey League race today and their followers hope they will stay near the top all season.

The Rangers moved into the No. 2 spot last (Wednesday) night on the strength of a 6-2 Maple Leafs in their home opener at Madison Square Garden. It was the only game scheduled.

THE TRIUMPH gave the blue shirts a 3-2 season's record for six points.

Chicago and Boston, in a tie for third place with five points each, are scheduled to see action tonight as is Detroit, in fifth place with four points. New York is idle.

The Black Hawks are at Detroit and the Bruins face the league-leading Canadiens in Montreal.

Watson and the 11,658 fans who attended last night's game had plenty of cause for optimism.

ANDY HEBENPON, up from the Western League, scored twice. Bronco Horvath, another rookie, and veterans Wally Hergesheimer, Danny Lewicki and Ron Murphy produced the other New York markers.

Ranger Goalie Lon Worsley was outstanding—turning back 46 Toronto shots. He had trouble only with Earl Balfour, who registered both goals for the last place Maple Leafs.

Heraldry now is known as the "science of armorial bearings."

Adora Captures Governor's Cup

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 20 (AP)—Adora, champion two-year-old pacing filly of 1954, won the $10,000 Governor's Cup race for three-year-olds at Brandywine Raceway last night by a nose over the 1-5 favorite, Poplar Bill.

Adora finished fast with a clocking of 2:03 3/5 to pay $8.30, $4.40, $2.60. Poplar Bill paid $2.10, $2.10. Meadow Imp paid $2.60 for show.

Navy Boosts Lambert Lead

Undefeated Navy, beating strong Penn State, 34-14 last Saturday, scored a sweep of all first place votes in the second weekly Lambert Trophy ratings this week.

Navy got 34 "Lambert average" points, the maximum possible in the weekly standings. The selectors—coaches, newspaper and radio men—showed unanimity on Navy, rare in the 20-year history of the Lambert competition.

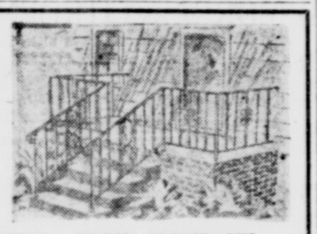

Trailing Navy were Pittsburgh, 9.9; Holy Cross, 8.3; Yale, 7.6; Syracuse, 7.1; Boston College, 4.2; Army, 2.7; Colgate, 2.4; Penn State, 2.3; Princeton, 0.7.

Iron Mountain, Michigan, affords the highest artificial ski slide in the world.

NFL Steps Up Dates For Draft

Philadelphia, Oct. 20 (AP) — The National Football League will hold part of its annual college player draft two months early this year in an effort to beat the Canadian League to the cream of the crop.

Commissioner Bert Bell of the NFL said last night that the league will meet in Philadelphia sometime between Nov. 14 and Nov. 28 — probably Monday, Nov. 28 — to make the bonus pick and select the first three choices.

Bell's announcement came after a Milwaukee Journal sports writer quoted an unnamed league club owner as saying the loop would hold a secret draft meeting Nov. 28 because of Canadian raids. The unidentified owner was quoted as saying:

"WE ARE sick and tired of Canadian raids on our best college talent. We've had to sit helplessly by in the past, with our draft in January, while Canadian clubs swooped down in late November or December and plucked off, or at least approached, the cream of the crop."

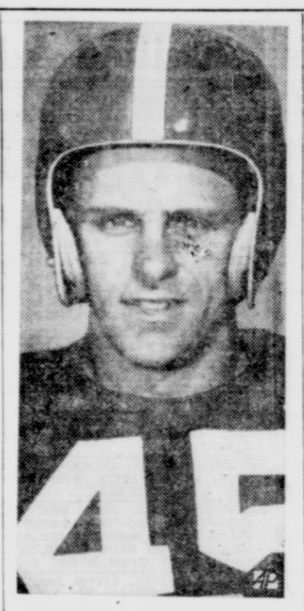

Bell rejected the secret meeting contention, saying, "I sent out a bulletin to club owners informing them of the meeting and specifically stating that an announcement of the early draft would be made to the press at least two weeks before the date of the meeting."

He said the main reason for the early draft would be to offset the possibilities of lawsuits between NFL teams and Canadian football clubs. He said the meeting was not considred a weapon to combat raids on NFL selections by Canadian teams, although it quite obviously is.

"WE'RE TRYING to avoid the possibility of signing ball players already signed and vice versa," Bell said.

The commissioner went on to explain that NFL teams found that many players selected in their draft already were signed by Canadian teams by the time the January meeting rolled around.

"Some players would say they weren't signed by the Canadians and they were; some would say they were and they weren't. We ended up in lawsuits. That we want to avoid," Bell said.

BACK OF WEEK — Fullback Jerry Planutis, of Michigan State, was named back of the week, Oct. 19, for his play against Notre Dame last weekend, when State upset the Irish at East Lansing, Mich., 21-7. (AP Wirephoto).

Says Documents Cleared FDR on Reds Joining War

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D.-Ill.) said today papers just published by the Pentagon "seem to exonerate President Roosevelt's decision at Yalta to bring Russia into the war against Japan."

"The net effect of these documents," Douglas said in a statement, "will be to clear the reputation in this matter of Franklin D. Roosevelt. . . . It is now shown that he merely acted on the best military advice."

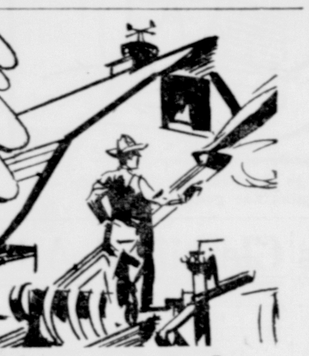

FOR THE PAST 10 years, there has been considerable controversy over the Yalta decision by Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill to agree to certain territorial concessions to get Russia into the Far Eastern war. Russia came in after the first atomic bomb was dropped, and less than a week before Japan surrendered.

A 35,000-word record of U. S. military plans dealing with Russia and the war with Japan, released yesterday, reported that virtually all of America's top military leaders were in favor of Russia coming in against Japan right after the Pearl Harbor attack. However, these papers also reflected a growing feeling as time passed that Japan could be defeated without Russia's aid.

Katrine Gun Club To Open St. Remy Preserve Oct. 23

The new hunting preserve of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club, Inc., will be opened at St. Remy Sunday, Oct. 23, with hunting hours scheduled from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Members must register at the trap field in order to hunt. Permanent back tags will be issued.

NO HUNTING will be permitted on the preserve during the state pheasant season and violators will be prosecuted.

The register and refreshments will be in charge of Bob Brizee. All cars must be left on the parking field adjacent to the trap field.

The club voted as its October meeting to close memberships for the current year.

Workers are urgently needed for Saturday morning at the trap and skeet field to help with the erection of the club building and to make necessary arrangements for Sunday's shooting. Workers are requested to report at 9 a. m.

Sacrifice Rule Lifts 3 Players Into .300 Class

Three players were moved into the .300 circle as a result of baseball's sacrifice fly rule during the 1955 season, The Associated Press reports.

However, even with the help of the "free" time at bat only 29 players hit .300 or better, three fewer than in 1954, when the regulation was revived after a 14-year absence.

Figures compiled showed that Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators; Forrest (Smoky) Burgess of the Cincinnati Redlegs and Harry Simpson of the Kansas City Athletics were the rule's chief benefactors. Each finished among the .300 hitters but would not have done so without the sacrifice fly.

VERNON WOUND up with a .301 average. Counting his eight sacrifices the first baseman would have had a .297 mark.

Burgess, who also hit .301, collected six sacrifices. Simpson, who batted .300, would have had a .298 if his three-run scoring flies were charged to his at-bat total.

Jackie Jensen of the Boston Red Sox led both leagues with 12 sacrifices. He had a final .276 average, a pickup of six points. Gil Hodges of Brooklyn paced the National League with 10. Roy Campanella had nine.

Ova Ran Over Somebody

Laramie, Wyo. (AP)—Ova Stapleton, 173-pound junior fullback, is the surprise of the Wyoming football team. A third stringer last season he now is a regular, especially since he picked up 132 yards on 19 carries in the Pokes opening game against Kansas State. Ova is the brother of Clayton Stapleton, Wyoming line coach last year.

Twenty-six fighters named Martinez were professionals. Fourteen were born in the United States, seven in Mexico, four in Cuba and one in Panama.

Shannondale Cops Kansas City Prize

Kansas City, Oct. 20 (AP)—The $1,000 stake for five-gaited mares in the American Royal Horse Show last night went to Shannondale, a 6-year-old Nebraska horse.

The animal is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Long, Norfolk, Neb.

Dream Waltz, from the Dodge Stables of Lexington, Ky., placed second and Beloved Belinda, owned by Miss Joan Robinson of Houston, Tex., was third.

Women competitors drew heavy applause from the 17,000 spectators that showed up for the afternoon and evening performances.

New Line of Wallpaper

Included in the new wallpapers now at Montgomery Ward is a line of pre-pasted, pretrimmed, plastic-coated paper which all but hangs itself, V. R. Burns, store manager, said today. He said even an amateur could do a professional looking job of paper hanging, using this paper and a water-box supplied without charge with roomsize orders. Mr. Burns pointed out that the new line also includes a large number of patterns and colors in regular papers. The designs of the new line are the product of talented wallpaper artists of both America and Europe. Their patterns reflect the new trends in home furnishing, as well as traditional styling.

WATERLINE across windows of All Saints Church, Rosendale, shows height of flood waters in the Rosendale area.

SEVERITY of swirling waters in the Lawrenceville section is indicated by this house which was washed from its foundation.

TOPPLED from their understructures, these bungalows in a colony near Rosendale were caught in the path of the raging waters. (Freeman photos).

that the newly announced organization change would enhance the company's ability to serve our government in connection with the defense program.

Charles F. McElwain, who will be general manager of the new division, is a member of the IBM Quarter Century Club, having joined the company in 1923 as a customer engineer in Pittsburgh. He received a number of assignments and advancements, and in 1953 was assigned IBM defense engineering co-ordinator, and since 1954 has served as director of defense engineering and manufacturing for all IBM locations.

Gavin A. Cullen, general manager of the Kingston IBM plant, and recently made general manager of Project Lincoln, joined IBM in 1932 at the Endicott plant, and he has since acquired wide experience in production control, manufacturing procedures, and related administrative duties. His managerial interests have brought him IBM School credits for successful completion of a number of manager training courses as well as a membership in the Society for the Advancement of Management. He is a member of the Kingston area Chamber of Commerce and the board of trustees of Kingston Hospital.

Barn Recovers From Flood to Operate Again

Twice have flood waters destroyed portions of his place of business and rumors have been rampant that "he is out of business," but Bob Teetsel's Barn night club on Route 28 is operating today.

"The last flood did plenty of damage," stated Bob Teetsel, "but thanks to my many friends who have worked with me night and day since the water receded, I am again doing business and shall continue to operate at the Barn."

A GRAPHIC example of the idea that "the show must go on," Bob Teetsel has managed to survive the raging waters on two occasions, although both times the water ravaged his Barn night club and the Pilot House drive-in to the extent of almost total ruin for some parts of the establishments.

"I expect to have a couple of private parties at the Barn this weekend," said the night club host. "These were scheduled prior to the last flood and will be serviced. In other words I want the public to know that Bob Teetsel is doing business as usual at the old stand and that I appreciate all the help that my friends have afforded in order that I could re-open the Barn almost as soon as the waters receded."

4 Towns . . .

the flood in August. In the August flood only portions of the county were seriously affected. In last weeks flood the damage was wide-spread affecting most of the areas of the county from Shandaken, Hurley, Olive, Ulster, Wawarsing, Rochester, Marbletown, Rosendale down through the southern portions of the county.

Because of this wide-spread damage the entire county has been declared a disaster area and becomes eligible for assistance.

Col. Allan Hanstein, director of Civil Defense, said today that continuing the county as a disaster area placed it in a position to benefit from public assistance in the same manner as was effective following the August flood.

Following a request made by Senator Arthur H. Wicks for immediate aid to Kingston and the county, it was announced today that Congressman J. Ernest Wharton would come to Ulster county on Friday and make a first hand personal inspection of the county to ascertain what the needs of the people are.

Congressman Wharton is expected to arrive in Kingston Friday morning and in company with Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Major H. Edgar Timmerman assistant director of Civil Defense; Roland Green, acting county superintendent of highways, and various other officials make a tour of inspection to interview the people of the affected areas and ascertain what can be done. He is expected to visit Rosendale, Ellenville and the Shandaken area to gain a first hand picture of the situation so he may be in a position to either introduce legislation or support legislation which will assist local people in the plight.

Direct testimony of the people and officials in the badly affected areas will be sought by Congressman Wharton to ascertain what the real community needs are and the individual needs in the flood areas.

Ulster county is one of three badly affected areas in Congressman Wharton's district. Schoharie and Greene counties have also been badly hit by the flood.

India produces about 36,800,000 sheep and goat hides annually.

Advertisers to Get Benefit of Course

ADVERTISERS HD—(Tie With Freeman Rrepresented Cut) —. Warren Simmons, advertising director of The Kingston Daily Freeman, has just returned after attending an intensive three-day newspaper advertising workshop held in Rye, New York, Oct. 9-12. Along with colleagues from other newspapers in 10 eastern states and Canada, he studied the latest techniques of successful retail advertising for his use with Kingston merchants and other members of the Freeman's advertising department staff.

The New York Workshop for newspaper advertising salesmen is the eleventh, and last of the 1955 program, held by the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association in various states throughout the country.

THE PRIMARY PURPOSE of the Workshops is to acquaint advertising salesmen with the current problems and needs of the retail advertiser, and how to work with these retailers to make newspapers, which receive the major portion of their advertising dollar, an even more effective selling tool.

A major portion of the training was devoted to learning (1) how to help a store analyze its advertising and determine ways to make it more productive, and (2) how to build a sound advertising plan that takes full advantage of every selling opportunity, month by month and department by department.

BENEFITS FROM sound advertising planning for the retailer were explored thoroughly at each of the "shirt sleeve" sessions by use of demonstrations, group discussions and the study of actual case histories.

A feature of the demonstrations was the Bureau's Fifth Annual Time Table of Retail Opportunities with its new Market Target Dial, showing monthly per-family expenditures for ten types of merchandise.

The New York Workshop session follows another recent New York Workshop and those held in Chicago; Longview, Washington; Fresno, California; Cincinnati; Dallas; and Atlanta, during 1955.

NEWSPAPERS represented were: from New York—Port Chester Daily Item, Schenectady Gazette, Niagara Falls Gazette, Rochester Democrat Chronicle, New Rochelle Standard-Star, Wall Street Journal, White Plains Register Dispatch, Rochester Times-Union, N. Y. Journal-American, Buffalo Courier-Express, Kingston Daily Freeman; from New Jersey—Perth Amboy Evening News, Plainfield Courier News; from Pennsylvania — Philadelphia Bulletin, Williamsport Grit, Hazleton Plain Speaker, Standard Sentinel; from Connecticut—Meridan Record Journal, Middletown Press, Bridgeport Post Telegram; from Massachusetts—Worcester Telegram Gazette, New Bedford Standard Times, Pittsfield Berkshire Eagle, Holyoke Transcript-Telegram; and the Washington, D. C., Post & Times Herald, Kitchener (Ontario) Record, Manchester (N. H.) Union Leader, Norfolk (Va.) Newspapers, Inc., Westerly (R. I.) Sun, Brattleboro (Vt.) Reformer.
